Brittany Murphy was CIA hit over Wade And Bernard Barker

Borderline Personality in film

Borderline personality disorderr (BPD), also known as emotionally unstable personality disorder (EUPD),[8] is a mental illness characterized by a long-term pattern of unstable relationships, a distorted sense of self, and strong emotional reactions.[4][5]

Cobwebs of Influence: A Speculative Overlay

This section explores symbolic and thematic connections between Cold War strategy, psychiatric narratives, and cultural trauma, without asserting causality.

Key Figures and Symbolic Threads

- Carl Kaysen: Cold War strategist and JFK advisor; architect of nuclear logic and elite networks.
- Susanna Kaysen: Memoirist institutionalized with BPD; her story reflects Cold War-era psychiatric control.
- Brittany Murphy: Actress in Girl, Interrupted; her sudden death echoes themes of silencing and trauma.
- CIA Assassins (alleged): Figures encountered in psychiatric settings; symbolic of covert control and disinformation.
- JFK & Missile Crisis: Embodiment of Cold War brinkmanship and bureaucratic secrecy.

Borderline Personality Disorder as Cold War Metaphor

Emotional instability, identity fragmentation, and fear of abandonment mirror geopolitical tensions and containment strategies of the era.

Brittany Murphy's Death as Cultural Echo

Her portrayal of institutional trauma and her real-life death form a symbolic resonance with themes of vulnerability and systemic failure.

Speculative Haze as Methodology

This framework invites readers to explore ambient logic and symbolic resonance rather than assert direct causality. It is a method of mapping atmospheres, not proving conspiracies.

Brittany Murphy (left) actor in (1999) Girl Interrupted, [in her life by Borderline] NOVEMBER 10, 1977 Atlanta, Georgia, U.S. Died DECEMBER 20, 2009 (aged 32)Los Angeles, California, U.S.

Winona Ryder (right)

Brittany Murphy's career also included work as a singer. She commented: "My singing voice isn't like my speaking voice …I've just always kept it a secret and never taken credit because I wanted to learn how to work behind the microphone in a recording studio, and some of the singers don't even know it was me recording on their albums." From Wikipedia the free encyclopedia

An Emotional Hair Trigger, Often Misread - NYT PERSONAL HEALTH

By Jane E. Brody June 15, 2009 *

In the popular 1999 movie "Girl, Interrupted," Winona Ryder portrays a young woman who tries to commit suicide, then spends nearly a year in a psychiatric hospital with a diagnosis of borderline personality disorder. The film, based on a 1993 memoir by Susanna Kaysen, was gripping.

Susana Keyson is the real life story. Her father was in the JFK administration and makes a reference to Col Prouty also in an NSC meeting. What did they have in common? Ed Donegan when I was kid Prouty knew i had that type of disease Susana did. So Prouty sort of god-father of Ed and KarL Keyson father of Susana sitting together in a room. And in the pscy was was the son of Wade Barker CIA hitman in the Dallas School Book Deppository or the DSBD.

Permalink https://archive.org/download/genoracketeering_202001/BrittanyMurphyCIAWadeAndBernardBarker.pdf

In Girl Interrupted a Kennedy administration official's daughter is in a psych-ward. Britany Murphy plays her best friend there. All sorts of CIA connections exist in the real story and back-story. She is treated for Borderline Personality Disorder a symptoms-group that overlay what is mostly likely primarily FOXP2 brain development gene and the resulting conditions are variations on Minimal Brain Disorder. That often responds to amphetamines but also Bupropion and both are effective in (perhaps Bupropion more so) in emotionally improved mental state (Well rather than in Abandonment Trauma or any other trauma) and improved concentration that ADD will if untreated become a pathological cause of.

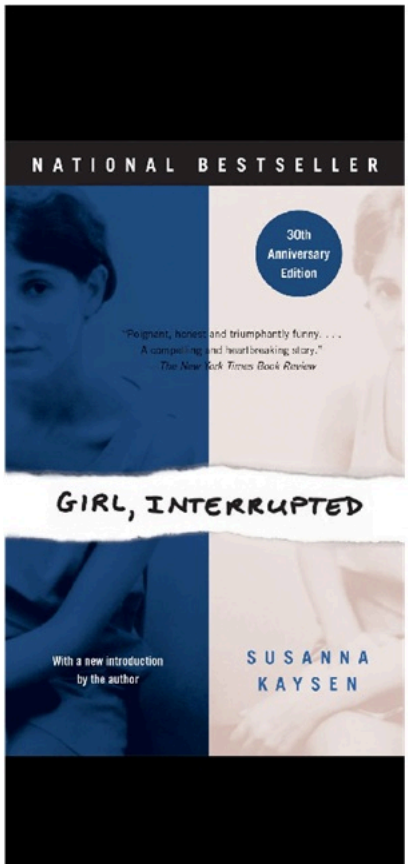
Bupropion is an antidepressant medication that has received FDA approval for the treatment of depression and seasonal effective disorder and as an aid for smoking cessation.

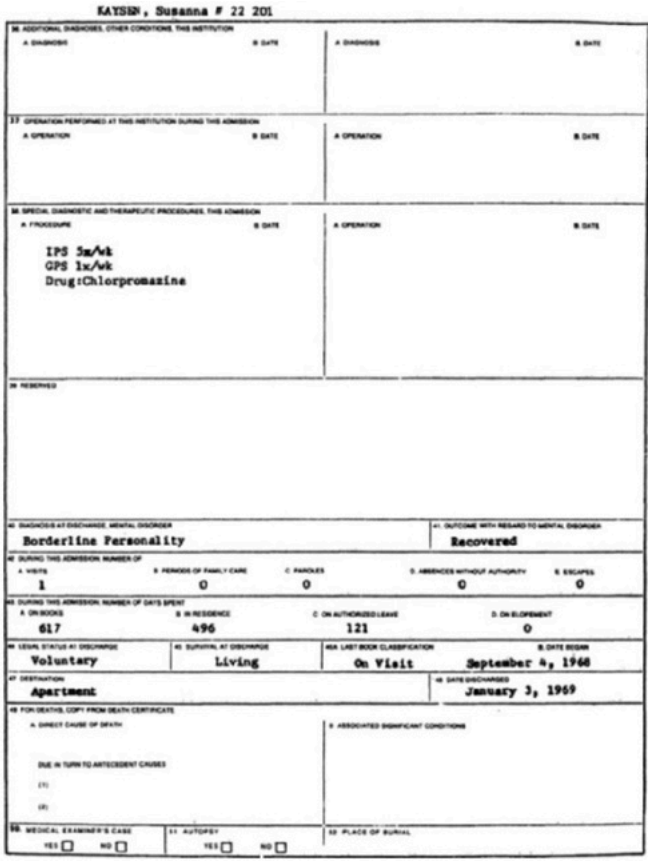
I Edward Paul Donegan have studied ADD/ADHD extensively and experts say that (and I have found) the mental focus disease can result in both academic and social failures but in their direct effect and in particular social failures as others are moving towards college and making plans together as the lower academic rung is on the social outs.

Susana Kaysen is the only student of her elite hight school not going on to college and she is a drug addled mess. In the movie and perhaps reality is was drinking and a bottle of aspirin but was considered a suicide attempt by the volume of both.

This differs from Schizophrenia in that the factual perceptions are correct but the emotional perceptions of the world, the context of the individual, are corrupted the individual feels a lack of connection to or even an understanding of the why or what of the world they are in.



NATIONAL BESTSELLER
30th Anniversary Edition
"Poignant, honest and triumphantly funny. . . . A compelling and heartbreaking story."
The New York Times Book Review
GIRL, INTERRUPTED
With a new introduction by the author
SUSANNA KAYSEN



KAYSEN, Susanna # 22 201

IPS 3x/wk
GPS 1x/wk
Drug:Chlorpromazine

Borderline Personality | Recovered

1	0	0	0

617	496	121	0

Voluntary	Living	On Visit	September 4, 1968

Apartment | January 3, 1969

CASE REPORT-CONT'D

B. Prognosis: The resolution of the depressive affect and suicidal drive should be expected as a result of the hospitalization. The degree of personality integration and ego function which may be achieved for the long term is hard to predict. We may say that with a good intensive working relationship in therapy and a successful relationship to the hospital the patient may be able to achieve a more satisfactory means of adapting. Nevertheless because of the chronicity of the illness and the basic deficiencies involved in personality structuring, a more complete recovery is not to be expected at this time. However, the patient may learn to make more wise choices for herself within the boundaries of her personality so that she is able to achieve a satisfactory dependent relationship if necessary which will sustain her for a long period of time.

Observations an the interpretations of the observations as analysis are two separate stages of understanding and the latter phase is corrupted as a process in Borderline Personality Disorder.

Poisoned by Toxic Metals as a factor or co factor to backterial or viral pneumonia? Metallic dusts deposited in the lung may give rise to pulmonary fibrosis and functional impairment, depending on the fibrogenic potential of the agent and on poorly understood host factors. Inhalation of iron compounds causes siderosis, a pneumoconiosis with little or no fibrosis. Hard metal lung disease is a fibrosis characterized by desquamative and giant cell interstitial pneumonitis and is probably caused by cobalt, since a similar disease has been observed in workers exposed to cobalt in the absence of tungsten carbide. https://pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/2178966/

Brittany Murphy: Tragic Accident or Conspiracy? Kendall Rae

Prior to their deaths Brittany Murphy and Simon Monjack were on the DHS Watchclist and had been warned by a DHS Whistel-blower of trouble with DHS for the couple. https://youtu.be/mwkLAlKWWHw?si=3IpoMKxfmZmBF5a9&t=589

Kendall Rae reports on the deaths of Murphy and her husband Monjack that followed in quick succession and reports on the conspiracy elements targeting them that they themselves reported to others, the father of Murphy held, and a DHS ICE Whistle-blower had reported to them. Here is that link that starts in the middle of the Rea report because that is when the details emerged in the report. The RT Today screenshot was taken as a screenshot by Rea.

Winona Ryder - "When I read the book I was in a way sad that i hadn't read it when i was a teenager."

What if Brittany Murphy read the book to and the story of Wade Barker who is a son of probable JFK assassin Bernard Baker of Watergate and was at Dealy Plaza?

Girl, Interrupted is a 1999 American drama film directed by James Mangold and written by Mangold, Lisa Loomer and Anna Hamilton Phelan, based on the 1993 memoir by Susanna Kaysen. Starring Winona Ryder, Angelina Jolie, Clea DuVall, Brittany Murphy, Elisabeth Moss, Jared Leto, Angela Bettis, Jeffrey Tambor, Vanessa Redgrave, and Whoopi Goldberg, the film follows a young woman who spends 18 months after being institutionalized in 1967 institutionalized at a psychiatric hospital following a suicide attempt.

In 1967, Cambridge Massachusetts, aimless eighteen-year-old Susanna Kaysen has a nervous breakdown and overdoses on aspirin and alcohol.

Girl, Interrupted was theatrically released in the United States on December 21, 1999, and grossed $48 million worldwide.

Her death at age 32 was followed 5 months later by her recent husband Simon Monjack. She and he felt they were under surveillance, installed massive amounts of security cameras and feared very powerful elemnts were after them. They were considered paranoid due to exposure to toxic mold. https://youtu.be/rlxXRXMqIHM?si=IO2XFqYamn_whBkl&t=68. Both of these figures likely had ties to and insider information on MK-ULTRA, Andy Warhol, and the CIA assasination of JFK through alternate patchs for each.

In A Girl Interrupted the auto-biography of Susan Keyson Carl_Kaysen is the father of her when she is treated for Borderline Personality Disorder. She is the daugter of a Kennedy administration official hospitalized with the son of a Watergate CIA connected burger and was tied to E. Howard Hunt and G. Gordon LIddy.

Wade Barker with Susan Keyson

He constantly talks about how his father is in the CIA, and has many powerful and dangerous friends. His claims are dismissed as delusions until the Watergate scandal breaks, and two of his father's friends are suddenly all over national television. https://www.litcharts.com/lit/girl-interrupted/characters/wade-barker#:~:text=He%20constantly%20talks%20about%20how,suddenly%20all%20over%20national%20television.

BRITTANY ANNE BERTOLOTTI

Brittany Anne Murphy-Monjack (née Bertolotti; November 10, 1977 - December 20, 2009) was an American actress and singer, known for her proficiencies in both comedy and drama.

On December 20, 2009, Murphy died at age 32 under disputed circumstances. The coroner's verdict was pneumonia, exacerbated by anemia.

Upon the death of Britany her father Angelo Joseph Bertolotti was suspicious she was poisoned and perhaps worried about a real and not imagined conspiracy. His suspicions grow when her husband dies of the same symptoms five months later.

SIMON MARK MONJACK

SIMON MARK MONJACK Born Born 9 March 1970 Uxbridge, Greater London, England Died 23 May 2010 (aged 40) Los Angeles, California, U.S. 9 March 1970 Uxbridge, Greater London, England Died 23 May 2010 (aged 40) Los Angeles, California, U.S

Simon Mark Monjack (9 March 1970 - 23 May 2010) was an English screenwriter, film director, producer and make-up artist. He was the widower of Brittany Murphy.

Career

Monjack directed, produced, and wrote the B movie Two Days, Nine Lives in 2000. He received story credit for the 2006 biographical film Factory Girl about Warhol actress/model Edie Sedgwick. Director George Hickenlooper contended that "Monjack had nothing to do with Factory Girl" and that "he filed a frivolous lawsuit against us [...] making bogus claims that we had stolen his script. He held us literally hostage and we were forced to settle with him as he held our production over a barrel." Monjack denied these claims. In 2007, E! News reported that Monjack was slated to direct a film adaptation of D. M. Thomas's novel about Sigmund Freud, The White Hotel, with Brittany Murphy cast in a leading role, but the movie was never made.

Edith Minturn Sedgwick Post (April 20, 1943 - November 16, 1971) was an American actress, model, and socialite, who was one of Andy Warhol's superstars, starring in several of his short films during the 196'0s. Her prominence led to her being dubbed an "It Girl", while Vogue magazine named her a "Youthquaker".

Sedgwick broke with Warhol in 1966 and attempted to forge an independent acting career. However, her mental health deteriorated from drug abuse and she struggled to complete the semi-autobiographical film Ciao! Manhattan. Sedgwick abstained from drugs and alcohol after meeting her future husband, Michael Post, and completed filming Ciao! Manhattan in early 1971. Post and Sedgwick married in July 1971; she died four months later of an overdose at age 28.

OCHUS V CAMPBELL

Ochus V Campbell was an Assassination and Oswald witness. He was employed as the Texas School Book Depository vice president. Campbell stood in front of the TSBD; he stated: “I heard shots being fired from a point which I thought came from near the railroad tracks . . . .”

Campbell witnessed the motorcade at the time of the President’s death. He ran to the Grassy Knoll. Dallas Times Herald quotes Campbell as saying he raced back to the TSBD to see Oswald in a small storage room on the ground floor. Campbell never provided an affidavit, gave no deposition, and was never interrogated by the Commission.

AI Overview Yes, Bernard Barker was reportedly in Dealey Plaza on November 22, 1963, the day of John F. Kennedy's assassination. Barker was an undercover agent for the FBI and CIA, and was involved in the Bay of Pigs invasion.

Explanation- Bernard Barker was an undercover agent for the FBI and CIA. He was also involved in the Bay of Pigs invasion of 1961. According to Dallas detective Seymour Weitzman, Barker was seen on the Grassy Knoll in Dealey Plaza on November 22, 1963. Weitzman said Barker was showing Secret Service identification and ordering people away.

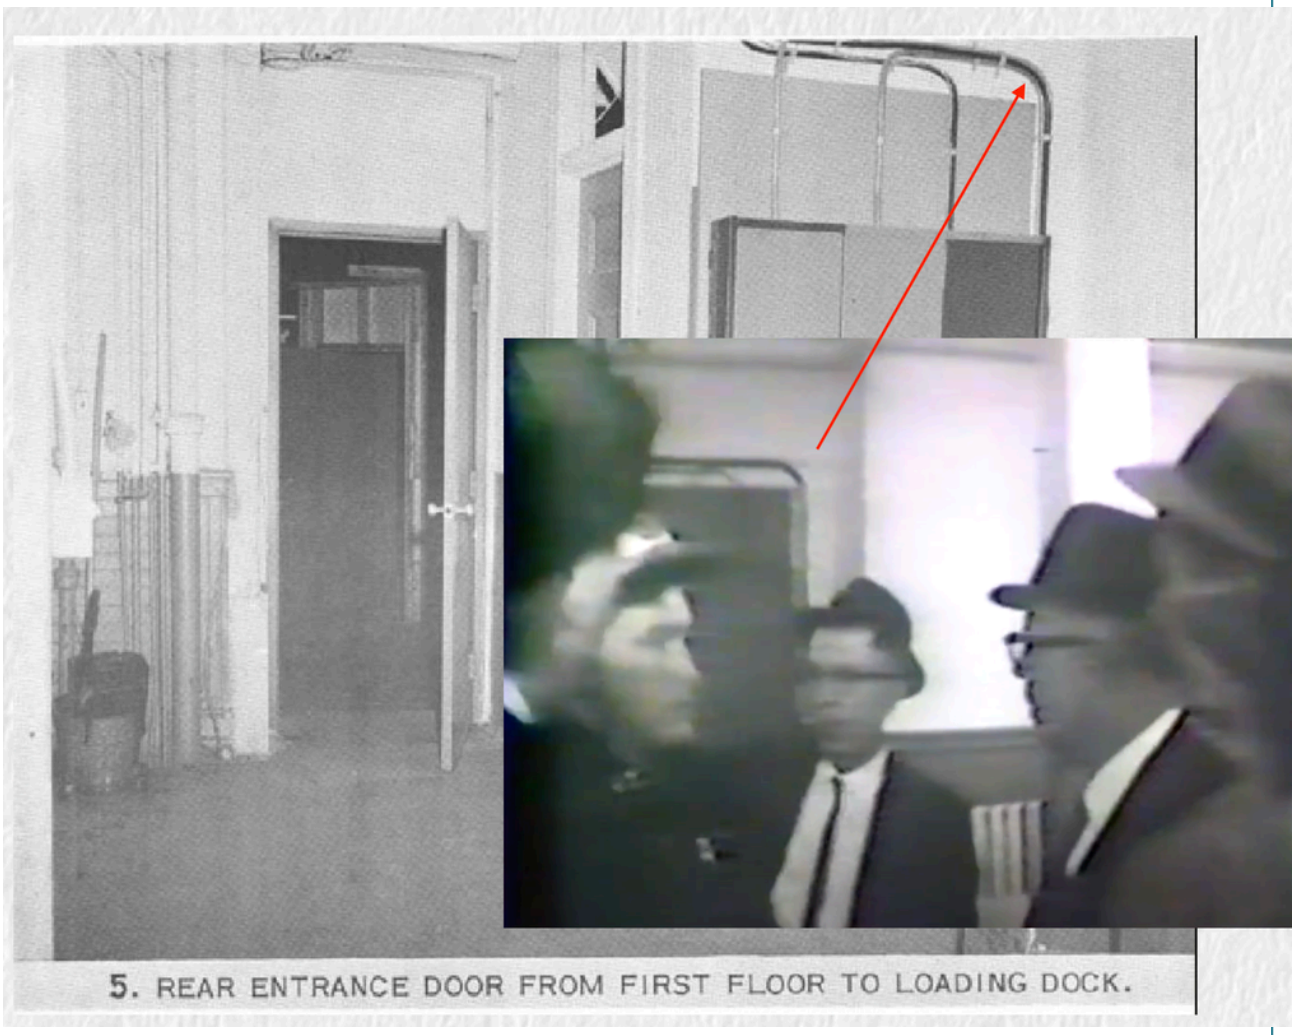
Barker was also involved in the Watergate scandal. At the Erving hearings, he compared the Bay of Pigs invasion to the Watergate break-in.

BERNARD BARKER

https://www.jfklibrary.org/asset-viewer/archives/cubasrrec-001-005mm filmed the crowds and circumstances and events inside Texas School Book Despository following the assassination.

WAD BARKER

Son of Wade Barker. Asserted in psych ward his father was a CIA assasin who worked with G. Gordon Liddy, E. Howard Hunt, and others. Wade Barker is fairly central characer in the book and movie A Girl Interrupted based on the true story.



Here's a better look at where these guys are. Bernard Leon Barker's back faces the elevators as if he came from that direction.

Found a 9th person in this group. He can be seen at the very beginning of the film clip for a split second. If you watch the clip, Baker turns around to watch as 9th person walks away towards the elevator.

Alyea Film, Reporters(?), Baker, Truly, and Campbell are discussing having just seen Oswald

"WE SAW HIM IN A SMALL STORAGE ROOM ON THE GROUND FLOOR. THEN WE NOTICED HE WAS GONE.

"

MR CAMPBELL ADDED. "OF COURSE, MR OSWALD AND THE OTHERS WERE ON THEIR LUNCH HOUR BUT HE DID NOT HAVE PERMISSION TO LEAVE THE BUILDING AND WE HAVEN'T SEEN HIM SINCE."

Plus behind Ochus is a warehouse worker standing around looking like he's waiting to go back to work?

Not involved in the conversation, not interested in the Cop and Big Wigs pow wow.Who Dat? - Page 4 Scre1027

- https://reopenkennedycase.forumotion.net/t2809p75-who-dat#43740

Tom Alyea, "Facts and Photos" From Connie Kritzberg's Secrets from the Sixth Floor Window, pp. 39-46

[Excerpted pieces]

I was the first newsman into the building and the only newsman to accompany the search team as they went from floor to floor searching for the person who fired the shots. At this time, we did not know the president had been hit. I rushed in with a group of plain clothesmen and a few uniformed officers. . . .

I [followed] the search team that was on its way to the rear elevator, to start the floor by floor search. We searched every floor, all the way to the roof. The gunman could have still been in the building. Finding nothing, they started back down. After approximately 18 minutes, they were joined by Captain Fritz, who had first gone to Parkland Hospital.

- https://www.jfk-online.com/alyea.html

So-called 'internet detectives' refuse to believe the truth about Brittany Murphy's death. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KgEDU0FuK18

BERNARD LEON BARKER - CIA AGENT 17-3-1917 5-6-2009

BERNARD Barker, one of five burglars whose 1972 break-in at the Watergate building in Washington led to the resignation of President Richard Nixon, has died in Miami from lung cancer and heart problems. He was 92.

Barker, a Cuban-American, was found hiding under a desk at the Democratic National Committee headquarters in the Watergate office building. Like his leader, James McCord, and the other three accomplices, Barker was a veteran of the CIA-sponsored Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba in 1961.

Working for the CIA under Howard Hunt, Barker organised a brigade of Cuban exiles for the ill-fated 1961 invasion aimed at overthrowing Fidel Castro. In the wake of its failure, President John Kennedy's lack of support incensed the Cuban exile community, and is often cited as a possible motive behind his 1963 assassination.

Some conspiracy theories link Barker with the assassination: at least one Dallas police detective identified him as the man on the grassy knoll showing secret service credentials and keeping the public away from the spot some believe hid the gunman who fired the fatal shot. Barker dismissed such claims, insisting Castro was behind Kennedy's killing.

Hunt again recruited Barker for the "plumbers" (the team assembled to fix leaks from the White House) to direct "black ops", code named Operation Gemstone, against Nixon's political enemies. Barker took part in the 1971 burglary of the offices of a psychiatrist who had treated Daniel Ellsberg, looking for material to discredit the man who had leaked the so-called Pentagon Papers. -https://www.smh.com.au/world/watergate-burglar-and-suspect-in-kennedy-slaying-20090610-c3me.html

https://www.amazon.com/Girl-Interrupted-Susanna-Kaysen/dp/0679746048

According to Georgina, all we needed was a frying pan and sugar. "When it's caramelized," she said, "we pour it into little balls on waxed paper."

The nurses thought it was cute that we were cooking. "Practicing for when you and Wade get married?" one asked.

"I don't think Wade is the marrying kind," said Georgina.

Even someone who's never made caramels knows how hot sugar has to be before it caramelizes. That's how hot it was when the pan slipped and I poured half the sugar onto Georgina's hand, which was holding the waxed paper straight.

I screamed and screamed, but Georgina didn't make a sound. The nurses ran in and produced ice and unguents and wrappings, and I kept screaming, and Georgina did nothing. She stood still with her candied hand stretched out in front of her.

I can't remember if it was E. Howard Hunt or G. Gordon Liddy who said, during the Watergate hearings, that he'd nightly held his hand in a candle flame till his palm burned to assure himself he could stand up to torture.

Whoever it was, we knew about it already: the Bay of Pigs, the seared skin, the bare-handed killers who'd do anything. We'd seen the previews, Wade, Georgina, and I, along with an audience of nurses whose reviews ran something like this: "Patient lacked affect after accident", "Patient continues fantasy that father is CIA operative with dangerous friends."

- https://www.amazon.com/Girl-Interrupted-Susanna-Kaysen/dp/0679746048

Carl and Susan Keyson and Bernard and Wade Baker

Carl Kaysen

Carl Kaysen (March 5, 1920 - February 8, 2010) was an American academic, policy advisor and international security specialist at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) and co-chair of the Committee on International Security Studies at the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He is the father of Girl, Interrupted author Susanna Kaysen. He was married for 50 years to Annette Neutra until her death in 1990. In 1994, he married Ruth Butler.

Carl Kaysen worked for President John F. Kennedy as Deputy National Security Advisor, and was directly under National Security Advisor McGeorge Bundy. Kaysen took over the position from Walt Rostow in 1961 and concentrated on the key issues of the Kennedy Administration such as nuclear weapons, foreign trade, international economic policy and international security policy.

On President Kennedy's orders, Kaysen prepared a report on how to utilize the US nuclear arsenal to preemptively destroy the Soviet Union's nuclear capacity and its ability to retaliate with nuclear weapons.

Kaysen was also a good friend of long-serving Greek Prime Minister Andreas Papandreou, whom he had met at Harvard. After Greece was taken over by a military junta in 1967, Kaysen and John Kenneth Galbraith were instrumental in convincing President Lyndon B. Johnson to decisively intervene in order to secure Papandreou's release from prison.

Kaysen was born in Philadelphia, the son of Elizabeth and Samuel Kaysen.

Kaysen received his B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1940 where he was elected Phi Beta Kappa and was a member of the Philomathean Society. He received both his M.S. in 1947, and Ph.D. in 1954 from Harvard University in Economics. He also did graduate study at Columbia University from 1940 to 1946.

Work and research

Kaysen's early work was in the areas where economics, sociology, politics and law intersect. Later, his research focused on arms control, international organizations and international politics.

He co-authored Peace Operations by the United Nations: The Case for a Volunteer Military Force (1996) and co-edited The United States and the Fundamental Criminal Court: National Security and Fundamental Law (2000).

He edited and contributed to a volume of essays, The American Corporation Today (1996).

Career

Between 1940 and 1942 he was on the staff of the National Bureau of Economic Research. From 1942 to 1943 he was an Economist for the U.S. Office of Strategic Services, and from 1943 to 1945 he was in Intelligence for the U.S. Army Air Forces, rising from private to captain.

After receiving his M.A. from Harvard University in 1947, he was an assistant professor there from 1950 to 1955, and was a clerk to Judge E. E. Wyzanski, U.S. District Court from 1950 to 1952, providing economic analysis for United States v. United Shoe Corporation, a major antitrust case.

In 1954 he received his Ph.D. from Harvard and did military and wartime Service. In 1955, he became an associate professor at Harvard, and in 1957, a full professor of economics. He served as associate dean, Graduate School of Public Administration, Harvard University, from 1960 to 1966.

From 1961 to 1963, he was Deputy National Security Advisor to President John F. Kennedy, a position in which he concentrated on foreign trade, economic policy, and the potential use of nuclear weapons. In this capacity, he was asked to prepare a report on how to utilize the US nuclear arsenal to preemptively destroy the Soviet Union's nuclear capacity and its ability to retaliate with nuclear weapons. Though Kaysen was merely fulfilling Kennedy's demand for alternative nuclear war strategies in case of conflict over Berlin, his report, which envisioned 'only' half a million to a million Soviet casualties, caused outrage and disgust within the administration, with White House Chief Counsel Ted Sorensen strongly criticizing him. During the Cuban Missile Crisis, he became known as the "Vice President in charge of the rest of the world."

He was named Lucius N. Littauer Professor of Political Economy, at Harvard University from 1964 to 1966.

Bernard Baker

Bernard Leon Barker (March 17, 1917 - June 5, 2009) was a Watergate burglar and undercover operative in CIA-directed plots to overthrow Cuban leader Fidel Castro.

Early life

Barker was born in Havana, to a Russian American father of Jewish descent and a Cuban mother. Therefore, Barker was a dual citizen of Cuba and the United States. At the age of 16, Barker joined the ABC, a revolutionary group opposed to then president Gerardo Machado y Morales. It was during this period that he acquired the nickname "Macho". Worried by these developments, Barker's father sent him to live in the United States. In 1935 Barker became an American citizen, but he returned to Cuba in order to study at the University of Havana.[citation needed]

World War II

After the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, triggering US entry into World War II, Barker joined the United States Army Air Forces, where he became a Boeing B-17 Flying Fortress crewman and a Second lieutenant bombardier. On his thirteenth combat mission, he was shot down on a bombing raid to Braunschweig, Germany, February 10, 1944. The Germans held him as a prisoner of war at Stalag Luft I in Barth. The Red Army liberated the camp on May 2, 1945.[citation needed]

Undercover agent

After the war, Barker returned to Cuba and joined the secret police under Fulgencio Batista. He was later recruited by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and worked for them as an undercover agent. He also did work for the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).[citation needed] He joined the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion.

Joins White House plumbers

In September 1971, his former CIA superior, E. Howard Hunt, recruited him for the "Plumbers", the Nixon White House's "Special Investigations Unit". He was recruited by Hunt to find background information on Daniel Ellsberg. Ellsberg was under watch for leaking the "Pentagon Papers", a series of articles featured in The New York Times in 1971 detailing U.S. government secrets concerning the Vietnam War's history. Along with Hunt and G. Gordon Liddy, Barker broke into the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist, Dr. Lewis J. Fielding, in Los Angeles. The mission's purpose was to find discrediting information on Ellsberg. The mission was completed, but largely unsuccessful in finding any damaging information about Ellsberg.[citation needed]

In 1972, Barker was one of the five burglars paid by the Committee to Re-elect the President (CRP), Nixon's re-election campaign fundraising committee, for a break-in at the headquarters of the Democratic National Committee, and subsequently was convicted in the Watergate scandal. The others were Frank Sturgis, Virgilio Gonzalez, Eugenio Martinez and James McCord. Along with the other Watergate burglars, G. Gordon Liddy, and E. Howard Hunt, Barker was charged with, and pleaded guilty to, wiretapping, planting electronic surveillance equipment, and theft of documents. Hunt claimed that Barker gave testimony, corroborating his assertion to the Senate Watergate Committee, that the reason they broke in was they were told by Liddy to search for evidence of clandestine financial contributions being received from foreign powers, such as Cuba.

Barker also worked with CRP to get money which went into the Nixon campaign coffers off the books; it was via his bank account that $25,000 from Archer Daniels Midland Chief Executive Dwayne Andreas was obtained by CRP in violation of campaign finance laws.

On March 7, 1974, Barker, along with Ehrlichman, Charles Colson, Liddy, Martinez, and Felipe de Diego, was indicted for the Ellsberg burglary. Barker was released pending appeal after serving one year of a two-and-a-half to six-year sentence.

Later life and death

After Barker's release from prison, he worked as a building inspector for the city of Miami, Florida, earning $18,512 per year. He chose early retirement in 1982 rather than fight proceedings seeking his dismissal for loafing on the job.

President Jimmy Carter denied him a pardon.

Barker died of lung cancer in his Miami home on June 5, 2009, aged 92. His fourth wife, Dora Maria Barker, survived him.

Barker was portrayed in All the President's Men, the 1976 film retelling the events of the Watergate scandal, by Henry Calvert.

From 1993 to 1996 and Would Colby and Gunderson and DeCamp see Borderline in the movies

Temple of Set propounding Ancient Astronaut theory probably is Temple Of Search for Extra-Terrestrial Life, in other words, FINDERS trying locate, relocate, kidnap, or kill Defense Intelligence Agency DARPA CIA Vatican sleeper agent remnants from where children live in foster care or other locations possibly because their families were CIA cover stories or possibly because they had behavioral problems.

Not long after the Franklin case became public in 1989, Paul Bonacci was arrested and sentenced to five years in prison for briefly touching a young boy on the outside of his pants. Bonacci has been diagnosed by at least three psychiatrists with Multiple Personality Disorder, a psychiatric disorder now called Dissociative Identity Disorder, that is almost always a consequence of severe and early child abuse. Bonacci admits that one of his personalities touched the boy, but abruptly stopped when he switched personalities and a remorse-stricken Paul reasserted control of his functioning. John De Camp, Attorney, and former long-term Nebraska State Senator, represented Bonacci. De Camp believes this abnormally long sentence was an attempt to silence Bonacci in the Franklin matters.

The child witnesses the FBI was trying to discredit seem rational yet prone to lying and showing bizzare personality traits simiar to DID

Do missing or killed GMOs include Jeffery McDonald's wife and child, and why the Mitochondria was hidden and faked by the F.B.I as Gunderson alleges, is Charles Harrelson's wife one of the GMOs?

These are the assertions Ted Gunderson, Jen Moore and Ed Donegan make, and the context of this and plans for Indonesia and Barrack Obama Jr are provided by Wayne Madsen, Col Fletcher Prouty, and others.

Nebraska Freedom Coalition retrieved from https://www.nebraskafreedom.org/post/the-fbi-is-a-masquerade-the-franklin-scandal and copied or modified to here

State Senator Loran Schmit was a long time respected Nebraska State Senator.

After FBI inquiries into the grand scheme were kept entirely secret, and evidence of King's sex ring was covered up, a separate investigation followed in the state legislature. The money trail led quickly to child abuse allegations and almost immediately threats began to come in:

"I think the message delivered was if any legislative committee ever tries to conduct a thorough investigation again, the same thing will happen. It has shaken my faith in the institutions of government. I used to be a firm believer that the system would work and that people that did things wrong would be punished. We discovered victims who claimed to had been abused and who the grand jury acknowledged had been abused. But they did not try to find out who had abused those individuals."

"I was very disappointed with the way the FBI and law enforcement treated the victims. They in fact turned them into the offenders so to speak."

"The FBI's attitude was 'no, these kinds of things don't happen.' They were just appalled, but I realize what that look in their eye was back then, it was fear. It was fear that, you know, that I had witnessed first hand things that would destroy this city. 'It's not going to be believed,' they said, 'it will not be believed. You will be found guilty of perjury. You go on with this story, you're going to jail.' That was said to me direct." - Troy Boner

"The last three victim witnesses were demolished by the press, particularly the Omaha World Herald." "The whole purpose of the stories were to discredit any credibility that the youth may have." - Carol Stitt,

"They had to send a signal to every kid who was a potential witness, a signal so loud and clear if you dared to come forward, if you dare to talk, watch what happens" - John, DeCamp, in regards to excessive sentencing for perjury, 9-25 years

As if this wasn't enough, Gary Caradori, the chief investigator of the scandal, died conveniently in a plane crash with his son after interviews with several victims of the cover-up and having acquired a rolodex. His briefcase was never recovered in the crash and the FBI impounded all records of the plane crash investigation. "I really feel that somebody killed my brother and inside me I know somebody killed my brother." - Gary Caradori's brother.

"The effect of Gary's crash on the investigation, I think in effect, put an end to anyone else coming forward with sensitive information like this." - Karen Ormiston

"That's when I was finished, because I figured if they murdered Gary and his son, there's nothing that will stop them." - Carol Stitt

"You have to consider the possibility of some danger to your person. People do react rather violently to some types of charges, particularly if they're true. If there's truth in it, there can be danger in that situation. We've seen that happen in other cases." - William Colby, former director of the CIA

"They, now in my opinion, are the architects of the coverup." "Every victim witness who stepped forward in any way, or even was a potential witness that somebody heard about, has either been killed, put in jail under some theory or the other, terrified, or run out of the state, discredited. Every perpetrator, even the convicted ones, have been treated as conquering heroes. Obviously, the FBI was protecting something a lot more significant than a bunch of old pedophiles having improper relations with little boys. They were protecting something a lot more significant than a bunch of drug peddlers. They were protecting, in my opinion, they were protecting some very prominent politicians, some very powerful and wealthy individuals associated with those politicians and the political system up to and including the highest political people in this entire country." - John DeCamp, on the FBI

Today, we have FBI whistleblowers coming forward left and right. FBI agents are openly testifying that they plant evidence. It's time that we as a nation realize that these ballooning federal agencies are not serving our best interest, but rather, as cover for a Caste System for the authoritarian elitists. There is a different set of rules for us and them. These are not good people. They do not have your best interest in mind and certainly not at heart. The lengths they'll go to retain power are as deep as their pockets. None of this is a surprise. What's surprising is people continue along with the status quo, all while it's contrived and orchestrated. They exist solely to retain the offices they need to perpetuate the reign over their fiefdoms.

DeCamp, again, sums things up succinctly:

"If you can control about 3 or 4 key elements, you can totally own a state. You can make right, wrong. You can make truth falsehood, falsehood truth. If you control the media, if you control the justice department, if you control the police, you own the system."

"The justice department, acting through the FBI and US attorney's office in Omaha, emerges from the record of the Franklin investigation, not so much as a party to the coverup, but as its coordinator. Rigging grand juries, harassment of witnesses, incitement of perjury, and tampering with evidence, federal personnel were seen to apply all those techniques in the Franklin case."

UnsilencedBoys Town Nebraska retrieved from https://www.unsilenced.org/program-archive/us-programs/nebraska/boys-town-nebraska/ and copied or modified to here

Unsilenced is a survivor-led non-profit organization that serves young people and adults who experienced institutional child abuse. If you're looking for a way to make a difference, consider donating to Unsilenced. Your contribution will help us continue our work advocating for survivors and youth. Every donation makes an impact, no matter the size. Thank you for your support!

There are other reports of this trafficking, and btw was DeCamp helping get CIA backed Vientamese family out of Vietnam as it collopsed for William Coby and the CIA?

George Bush, The CIA, Mind Control & Child Abuse retrieved from http://rochester.indymedia.org/ and copied or modified to here

George Bush, The CIA, Mind Control & Child Abuse May 5, 2003 From the Streets of Little Beirut Glen Yeadon

Not only did King's pedophile ring lead to the top echelons of the Republican Party it also lead to the top of the Bush administration and the Oval Office. Several of the children in Kings prostitution ring recount stories of seeing George Bush at some of King's Parties. While an outsider would not suspect anything amiss, the children in the ring would know what was taking place. At least one of King's young prostitutes reported that at one party, she saw George Bush pay King and then depart with a young black man.

George Bush, The CIA, Mind Control & Child Abuse

May 5, 2003

From the Streets of Little Beirut

Glen Yeadon

On January 28, 2003, amid the furor of the impending war with Iraq the British press briefly reported on Operation Ore, the most thorough and comprehensive police investigation of crimes against children before being squashed by the Blair government. Besides implicating Rock guitarist Peter Townsend of the Who, the report claimed that senior members of Tony Blair's government were being investigated for pedophilia and the "enjoyment" of child-sex pornography. With the investigation reaching to senior members of his Government, Blair declared a news blackout on the story.

Moreover, the British report was not the first such case reported. In fact, it followed on the heels of a report from Portugal. On November 27, 2002, the press reported a scandal of pedophile ring run from a state orphanage. The Guardian reported that the scandal threatened to engulf diplomats, media personalities and senior politicians. Photographs of senior government officials with young boys from Lisbon's Casa Pia orphanage were among the evidence. More shocking however, were the revelations that systematic sexual abuse of children at the home had allegedly been going on for more than 20 years and had been known to police and other authorities for most of that time.

On January 14, 2002, Insight Magazine reported the charges leveled by Ben Johnson against his employer Dyncorp, a major defense contractor. Johnson charged that officials and employees of Dyncorp were engaging in perverse, illegal and inhumane behavior and were purchasing illegal weapons, women, forged passports and participating in other immoral acts. Johnson had witnessed his supervisors and fellow employees buying 12- to 15-year-olds as sex slaves.

While prostitution is the world's oldest profession, the global sex trade is big business. The impact of illegal immigrant traffic in Canada is estimated at between $120 million to $400 million per year accounting for approximately 8,000 to 16,000 people arriving in Canada per year illegally. The estimate is from Organized Crime Impact Study, prepared for the Solicitor General of Canada. The majority of the illegal immigrants are forced into prostitution and come from Vietnam and China. Once smuggled into Canada the young girls are sold into bondage throughout a North America network.

Moreover, Canada is not alone. Young Russians and Ukrainian women that wish to immigrate to Israel are often smuggled into the country destitute and at the mercy of their pimp.

More disgusting is the role the United States government plays in facilitating this global sex trade. Instead of banning the previously mentioned Dyncorp from further defense contracts, the regime of George W Bush rewards it in granting major contracts for the Iraqi war. Even more shameful is the wink and nod the state department grants the Saudis. The Arabian Peninsula has long been known to be purchasers of slaves. Mostly the slaves came from India or Africa however, with the advent of the oil wealth the Saudis have became more selective and are known as high-end buyers.

The Saudi Arabian Government continues to refuse to sign the United Nation's treaty on slavery and extradition treaties. There have been several incidents in the past where the media has reported a slave of a Saudi prince brought into the United States escaped. The State Department then intervenes and returns the escaped slave to the Saudi prince and the incident forgotten. The State Department exempts the Saudi princes from normal custom procedures.

A child slave bought by a Saudi prince can be delivered to his plane and allowed to depart without the required passport for the child. One fortunate victim that became entangled in the Saudi sex ring was the former Miss USA Shannon Marketic. She had been lured to Saudi Arabia by what she believed was legitimate modeling work. Being a high profile case she was returned to the United States and filed suit. The former Miss USA lost her lawsuit as the State department granted immunity to her abductors.

Many of the pictures of the young children peering out from posters and milk cartons that have disappeared in the United States have fallen victim to this global sex trade. They indeed may have been lucky for there is a much more sinister side to child molestation. In fact, it is undoubtedly the most macabre and hideous aspect to evolve out of the United States use of Nazi scientists, the CIA's Project MK-ULTRA. This grotesque project of ghastly experiments in mind control evolved out of earlier CIA projects in search for a truth serum. The roots for such a project date back to the wartime OSS search for a truth serum. During the war, the OSS began a search for a truth serum to use on captured U-boat prisoners. The experiments were limited and the only drug they found to produce desirable results was cannabis. According to author Anthony Cave Brown in the Last Hero, the experiments were limited to testing on one person. Additionally Dr. George Estabrooks of Colgate University carried out experiments paralleling the Nazis brain washing methods by drugs and hypnosis. Estabrooks connections with the army, CID, FBI and other agencies are still shrouded in secrecy. However, it seems that the doctor could not help but talk about his experiments occasionally and what is know of his work comes from his loose tongue.

During the war, the allies had captured documents in the Nazis experiments on inmates of Dachau with mescaline and other psychedelics in a search for a truth serum. The doctor in charge of the Dachau experiments was Dr. Hubertus Strughold. Strughold was also involved in barbaric high altitude experiments on inmates of Dachau. Strughold was brought to the United States under the Project Paperclip and became America's father of space medicine. His use of mind-altering drugs on inmates provided the foundation for the CIA's research into truth serums and mind control.

The United States first foray into truth serums started in 1947 as Project CHATTER initiated by the navy. The project was terminated in 1953. In 1949, at the Edgewood Arsenal the CIA began project Bluebird using Nazi scientists to find a truth serum. Project Bluebird evolved into Project Artichoke and eventually into MK-Ultra. MK-UTRA was much larger in focusing on mind control and the means to achieve it was not limited to drugs and psychedelics. MK-ULTRA experiments including using hypnosis, lobotomy, electroshock, sensory deprivation, ESP, and drugs experiments in hypnosis, lobotomy, electroshock, sensory deprivation, ESP, drugs and sexual abuse.

Ironically, the CIA's first widespread use of sex came from a program to blackmail United States politicians conducted by Edwin Wilson. The political targets were enticed to live out their sexual fantasies in the flesh. With hidden cameras ready the unsuspecting politician would be filmed, which would later be used to blackmail him into supporting the agency's projects and views. Wilson's skill in these matters dated back to the early 1950s, when he took over a network of homosexual and pedophile rings from CIA asset and McCarthy Committee counsel Roy Cohn.

While MK-ULTRA focused primarily on the use of drugs for mind control other CIA projects evolved to use trauma to induce control or the victim's mind such as Project Monarch. Project Monarch officially began in the early 1960s, although unofficially at a much earlier date. Monarch may have evolved out of MK-SEARCH subprojects such as SPELLBINDER, which was a program to create the Manchurian candidate or sleeper assassins that could be activated with code words.

MK-ULTRA still remains classified as top secret. Officially, the CIA refuses to acknowledge it. In the aftermath of Watergate, the CIA released voluminous documents under the Freedom of Information act on MK-ULTRA and other projects. Several good books soon followed the release. Perhaps, the closest admission of the program came in an interview of William Colby by Anton Chaitkin of the New Federalist. When directly asked what about MONARCH, Colby angry replied "We stopped that between the late 1960's and the early 1970's." Knowledge of Project MONARCH comes from its victims. The first to surface was Candy Jones, a model with the birth name of Jessica Wilcox. Jones apparently fit the physiological profile as to be one of the initial experiments of MK-ULTRA. Her story was told in the book The Control of Candy Jones.

The most publicized case is the story of Cathy O'Brien told in the book TRANCE Formation of America: The True Life Story of a ClA Slave. O'Brien is the only vocal and recovered survivor. Like many others, Cathy was introduced to the program by her perverted father. Cathy covers an almost unbelievable array of conspiratorial crime: forced prostitution (white slavery) with those in the upper echelons of world politics, covert assignments as a "drug mule" and courier. Another survivor, Paul Bonaci who survived two decades of torture under Project MONARCH has disclosed strong corroborating evidence of wide-scale crimes and corruption from the municipal/state level all the way up to the White House. He has testified about sexually abused males selected from Boy's Town in Nebraska and taken to nearby Offutt AFB. At Offutt, they were subjected to intense MONARCH programming, directed mainly by Commander Bill Plemmons and former Lt. Col. Michael Aquino.

Monarch programming involves traumatizing the victim in order to create multiple personalities in the victim. Sexual molestation and the occult are standard tools for the Monarch programmer. There are several levels of Monarch programming.

Alpha is regarded as general programming within the base personality.

Beta programming or sexual programming eliminates all learned moral behavior and stimulates the primitive sexual instinct, devoid of inhibitions.

Delta is known as killer programming. Subjects are devoid of fear and are very systematic in carrying out their assignment. Self-destruct or suicide instructions are layered in at this level. .

Other levels of programming generally concern some method of self-destruction or evasion if the victim was ever captured after completing their assignment. The initial stages of programming usually begin somewhere in the first six years of the victim's life. Due to the trauma induced by electro-shock, sexual abuse and other methods the vicitms' mind splits into alternate personalities to cope with the trauma. Formerly referred to as Multiple Personality Disorder, it is presently recognized as Dissociative Identity Disorder and is the basis for MONARCH programming. Further conditioning of the victim's mind is enhanced through hypnotism, double-bind coercion, pleasure-pain reversals, food, water, sleep and sensory deprivation, and with various drugs.

In order to keep Project ULTRA and its associated projects secret the CIA segmented the research between several universities, hospitals and prisons. The Canadians are still coming to grips with the house of horrors found inside Dr. Cameron's Montreal labs. Cameron's research was sponsored by the CIA.

The final stage of programming usually occurs on military bases to insure security. Several bases are implicated with Monarch programming. Two bases have been exposed in the past by incidents Offutt and the Presidio in the 1980s. The Presidio case dates back as far as 1982, when a military doctor warned the army of the danger to children in its day care center. The army failed to follow its own regulations in allowing the children to go on field trips off base without the parents consent. On August14, 1984, the FBI and officers from the army's criminal investigation division raided the home of Lt. Col. Michael Aquino looking for evidence of child molestation.

The Presidio case attracted the attention of investigative reporter and radio talk show host, Mae Bruessell. During her investigation of the case, she received several death threats. Her daughter was killed in a car wreck that she attributed as a hit. Before concluding her investigation, Mae was struck with a fast onset of cancer. The reader should note the CIA has developed a fast acting cancer virus. Mae's death may have been induced rather than from natural causes.

Linked with both Offutt and the Presidio cases is Lt Colonel Michael Aquino. Aquino founded the Temple of Set, an offshoot of Anton LaVey's Church of Satan. He was attached to the DIA's Psychological Warfare Division and holds a top secret security clearance for his work in military intelligence and on classified psychological warfare. . Aquino is obsessed with Nazi pagan rituals. He officiated at SS black magic ceremonies held at Wewelsburg, the Castle once used by SS chief Heinrich Himmler (likely Himmler with Franz Kutchera] to create an SS order of Teutonic Knights based on the Knights Templars.

His hypnotic manipulation of people made him an ideal candidate for the position of Master Programmer. Aquino along with others was arrested in the Presidio case for child molesting. The evidence was overwhelming of their guilt however, to the dismay of the victim's parents all charges were dropped.

Aquino has developed training tapes on how to create a MONARCH slave and worked as a liaison between Government/Military Intelligence and various criminal organizations and occult groups in the distribution of MONARCH slaves.

The dismissal of charges is common in such cases. On February 7, 1987, the Washington Post ran an article about a case of possible kidnapping and child abuse.

Washington D.C. police had arrest two men after observing them watching over several children that were described as very neglected.

The children ran in age from 2 to 7 and were covered with insect bites and extremely dirty. Their subsequent investigation led to the FINDERS, a cult like commune. The adult males were Michael Houlihan and Douglas Ammerman. They led authorities to an old warehouse. Inside the warehouse police found color slides, photographs and photographic contact sheets. Some photos revealed children participating in blood letting cult rituals involving animals.

Other documents described "blood rituals" and sexual orgies involving children, and an unsolved murder in which the Finders might be involved. Additional documents revealed detailed instructions for obtaining children for unspecified purposes. The instructions included the impregnation of female members of the community, purchasing children, trading and kidnapping.

Several telex messages were also found in the warehouse. One such telex ordered the purchase of two children in Hong Kong to be arranged through a contact in the Chinese Embassy. There was a file called "Pentagon Break-in," and references to activities in Moscow, Hong Kong, China, Malaysia, North Vietnam, North Korea, Africa, London, Germany, "Europe" and the Bahamas. Other documents identified interests in high-tech transfers to the United Kingdom, numerous properties under the control of the Finders, interest in terrorism, explosives, and the evasion of law enforcement. The warehouse also had a video room, apparently used for indoctrination.

All the findings by the local police were verified by US. Customs officials. The US Custom officials soon ordered a full investigation and obtained search warrants for various locations. The investigation brought in the FBI as well. Nevertheless, this was as far as the investigation ever got. All law enforcement agencies involved including the local police, the US Custom's officials and the FBI were ordered to halt their investigations by the Department of Justice on grounds of national security. The matter was turned over to the CIA an "internal security matter," since the "Finders" is and has been a domestic and international covert operation of the Central Intelligence Agency. The investigations were immediately halted, the evidence suppressed and the abused children returned to their handlers, who had been arrested. To date the only media outlet that has published the details behind the halting of the investigation has been US News and World Reports.

There have been other reports suggestive of a connection between child abuse and top officials. On June 29, 1989, the Washington Times, shook the Bush White House to its very roots with the front page headline "Call Boys Took Midnight Tour of White House." The paper reported, A homosexual prostitution ring is under investigation by federal and District authorities and includes among its clients key officials of the Reagan and Bush administrations, military officers, congressional aides and U.S. and foreign businessmen with close ties to Washington's political elite."

At the center of the scandal was Craig Spence, a Republican powerbroker known for his lavish ``power cocktail" parties. Among the rumors circulating was a rumor indicating that over 200 of Washington's elite had used the call boy service. Spence's entire mansion was covered with two way mirrors, hidden microphones and cameras. The White House including President Bush refused to answer questions or discuss the incident. At the same time, another story implicating the President in child abuse was breaking in the heart of the country. The story centered on the failure of the Franklin Community Credit Union in Omaha.

For roughly a decade stories linking Larry King the director of Franklin to child molestation had surfaced in and around the Omaha area. The failure of the Franklin Credit Union began to expose the murky past of King that had been shrouded in fog. Besides being involved in the illegal Iran-Contra scandal, rumors of King's involvement with child abuse came forth. King was one of the rising stars in the Republican Party. He sung the national anthem at the national convention in Dallas. He was known for the lavish parties he held including the one at the famed South Fork Ranch from the TV series Dallas. King held parties around the country including Washington D.C. Always present at these parties were young children of both sexes from King's stable of prostitutes.

For years, rumors had surfaced about child abuse, drugs and King in the Omaha area. King had an ample supply of young boys from Boys Town, others he procured from the streets of Omaha. Police from as far as Kansas City were aware of his activities. Nevertheless, in Omaha King was protected. The chief of police in both Omaha and Des Moines, Iowa were frequent guests at King's parties in Omaha. King had the backing of Omaha's elite behind him including the staunchly conservative local paper. Indeed King wielded enough power to even shut down an investigation by the state attorney general under Democratic Governor Exxon. King even had an ally in the FBI officer in charge of the Omaha office. Moreover, there were abundant rumors that one did not want to incur King's displeasure.Several murders were rumored to have been committed by King to protect his child molestation and drug businesses. In fact, at least fifteen mysterious deaths are connected with the Franklin case. It was clear from the beginning that both the local and federal grand juries were being used as a tool to cover up the child abuse surrounding King and the Franklin case. Likewise, the FBI was part of the cover up. Several of the victims recanted their testimony after being threaten by the FBI. The victims that refused to recant were charged with perjury and sentenced to prison.

It was only with the failure of Franklin Credit Union that the whole story surrounding Larry King came out due to one man's dogged determination. John DeCamp, a former senator from the Nebraska unicameral legislator pursued the case relentlessly in the legislator. In fact, DeCamp was sternly warned by his friend, the former CIA director William Colby to give up the case before he met with a death. Shortly after warning DeCamp, Colby was found dead. Although Colby's death was attributed to accidental drowning it was more likely he was murdered. Instead of giving up his investigation and determination to uncover the truth about King's pedophile ring DeCamp chose the only remaining option with the blessing of Colby. He wrote a book about the case: The Franklin Cover Up. Once published, DeCamp's death would only call more attention to the Franklin case.

In page after page, DeCamp describes the gruesome lives of the victims of King's pedophile sex ring. Some of the cases preceded the Franklin failure by over a decade. Many of the children described satanic rituals that they were forced to attend, some of which involved sacrificing infants and young children. Children attending these sacrifices were warned that if they ever told anyone they would be the next to be sacrificed. In addition, they told of being flown to locations around the country in King's private plane to parties where they were expected to take part in any sexual acts demanded of them.

Why did such a case in the center of America's heartland prompt such a high level source as the former CIA director to warn his friend? Moreover, why was there so many mysterious deaths connected with the case? While the case made the headlines in regional papers, it never attracted the attention of the national media. Most people have never heard of Larry King. The answer to the questions lies in King's connection to the top power center of the Republican Party and the Bush administration. Both Bush's attorney general and secretary of treasure had to be aware that the FBI was involved in a massive cover up in Omaha. Even the flight logs of King's airplane had disappeared entangling the FAA in the cover up.

Not only did King's pedophile ring lead to the top echelons of the Republican Party it also lead to the top of the Bush administration and the Oval Office.

Several of the children in Kings prostitution ring recount stories of seeing George Bush at some of King's Parties. While an outsider would not suspect anything amiss, the children in the ring would know what was taking place. At least one of King's young prostitutes reported that at one party, she saw George Bush pay King and then depart with a young black man. The President was a pedophile and involved in a pedophile ring, the story had to be squashed at all cost. King is currently serving fifteen years for the failure of the Franklin Credit Union. At least two of his victims have been wrongly imprisoned for refusing to recant their testimony. Meanwhile pedophiles like George Bush are free and able to abuse other children all in the name of national security.

THE BIG BAMBOOZLE II: THE CONTINUATION OF FORBIDDEN STORIES

Ed Donegan fuses together Katherine Horton Stop007.org survey, his (my) own life story of attacks on me spanning more than 40 years, and my belief about the "Intelligence Community." The Cadre of dangerous corrupt mafia dons whole rule the world and the USA with dirty (secretive, quietly conducted) war crimes against populations.

https://archive.org/download/genoracketeering_202001/TheBigBamboozleII.epub

This chapter and other excerpted chapters are included in Los Angeles centered download Homicides.iso https://archive.org/download/genoracketeering_202001/Los%20Angeles%20Homocides%20Tip%20Exract%20Materials.iso An alternate download is a Proton Drive share https://drive.proton.me/urls/ER97M5VWT0#_6pU4Snj17e9.

Main Page and Table of Contents

Carl Kaysen Backgrounder

An Interview with
Carl Kaysen

By Marc Trachtenberg, David Rosenberg and Stephen Van Evera

MIT SSP
SECURITY STUDIES PROGRAM

Interview with Carl Kaysen

In the history of American nuclear strategy, Carl Kaysen played a unique and important role. An economist by training, he was one of the architects of the bombing campaign against Germany during the Second World War. He did some work for the RAND Corporation in the late 1940's and in 1951 took part in the important air defense study, Project Charles. A few years later he studied the vulnerability of the Soviet economy to American air attack for the Defense Department's Weapons Systems Evaluation Group.1

During the Kennedy period in the early 196'0s, Kaysen came to play a major role in policy making. He worked in the White House from 1961 to 1963, first on the National Security Council (NSC) staff and then as deputy to McGeorge Bundy, the President's national security advisor.

[In early 1942] I was a graduate student at Columbia and a part-time research assistant at the National Bureau of Economic Research in New York. Sidney Alexander, one of my colleagues at the National Bureau, had been recruited into OSS2 Washington by Ed Mason, a professor of economics at Harvard, who had organized the Economic Analysis Division of OSS. And Sidney recruited me. The war had started, I was a restless young man, so I finished the particular job I was working on at the Bureau and I went to Washington in about May of 1942.

I worked on miscellaneous things. I became a railroad expert. I did an analysis of the capacity of the Manchurian railways to sustain a Japanese defense against a Soviet attack in the Far East. I got fairly heavily involved in a fascinating effort that was organized by a man named Eddie Mayer who had been a petroleum geologist, to make estimates of the supply problems of the German army in the Soviet Union. Using all kinds of data, taken from Army field manuals, from World War I experience, this group of about four or five people constructed a great big matrix which showed various kinds of fighting, rapid advance, static defense, heavy fighting, and so on, and estimates of the tonnage of food, ammunition, POL, spare parts, and so on, that would be consumed by the different sorts of German divisions there in a day under these various conditions. On the basis of that and the railroad maps we were able to predict and did predict that the Soviets would win the battle of Stalingrad. Now, if they had lost, we wouldn't have predicted it. What we did say is that the Germans were going to have a terrible supply problem, and that the single rail line that they possessed in this salient simply wouldn't be able to produce the things that they needed to sustain their advance. All of this made use of my training in quantitative work.

I would say that the most important idea that as an economist I had, all of us economists had, which wasn't in ordinary military thinking, was the idea of substitution. If you take the whole strategic materials business, we were among the first people to see through the argument about "strategic materials" and say this was going to be crap, because they'll find ways around it. Some engineers understood that too, but most military men didn't.

So I did a lot of miscellaneous things. At one point fairly early on, I got into a discussion of a paper that the British Chiefs of Staff had given to the American Chiefs of Staff about the British bomber offensive. This was a paper which showed that by destroying housing and so on, they were going to undermine the German productive process, they were going to destroy workers' morale by burning their houses down, or blowing them up, or whatever-mostly bricks so they blew up rather than burned down. There was a lot of criticism of that paper. There was some technical criticism. They didn't have the correct formula, for example, for allowing for the overlapping effect of bombs. There's a negative exponential that you have to put in there. Today, this is all very familiar in the targeting business, but it was then a new idea. But we also were very skeptical, and correctly skeptical, about the notion that this kind of bombing would do any good.

So I got involved a little bit in this business. Then the Eighth Air Force was sent to England. Mason and Emile Despres [Mason's successor as head of the Economic Analysis Division] went over to England and discussed with the Eighth Air Force the idea of having a unit that would sort of work for the Eighth Air Force and which would do two things: help pick targets and help assess bomb damage.

I was supposed to go as a civilian to this unit. But I had to ask for my draft board's permission which was not granted. So I asked to be called up. I was told to enter the service and they would arrange to have me go over there in the service. So I joined the Air Force, was sent over to London, and got a battlefield commission [at the American embassy] in Grosvenor Square. I went to this unit which was commanded at that time by Charlie Kindleberger.3

It had about 7 or 8 people in it, mostly economists. We did two things. We argued about what targets to hit, and we actually did a lot of intelligence. And I got into the intelligence business in a serious way. I trained for a couple of months to be a photo interpreter and because I was technically in the Air Corps I was cleared for Ultra.4

We relied mainly on three things: photo interpretation, the signal intercepts, and prisoner interrogation, which was very important. I actually participated in a few interrogations.

A kind of theory of bombing-that is, a theory of industrial bombing- evolved out of these arguments about which target systems to bomb. It was this theory that the [US Army Air Force essentially adopted. If you look at the first target lists of SAC [the Strategic Air Command], you see projected onto the Soviet Union what we had been doing in Germany, with a big role for oil and so on. Now, of course, our theory was evolved with due regard for the very limited tactical capabilities of what we could do.

[With OVERLOAD the plan for the invasion of Normandy] One of the great interrogation reports we got that we circulated endlessly around the intelligence community was of a German fighter airfield commander, a base commander, who had his Mercedes hitched to three horses, dragging it around the field because they had run out of gasoline for his car. But to get back to the Tedder Plan: what we said was that this marshaling yard business was crap, because, in the first place, marshaling yards were easy to repair, and, in the second place, 70 or 80 percent, or whatever number it was, of railroad capacity was used to supply the civilian economy, and only 20 percent or so was used directly for troop movements and supplying the battle front. 5 See Lord Zuckerman, From Apes to Warlords (London: Hamish Hamilton, 1978), chap. 12. 5 An Interview with Carl Kaysen

They had a lot of squeeze, so it was a waste. So we worked up an alternate plan-we called it the "immaculate conception" because no on would sponsor it-and our target list focused on bridges, military depots, and things like that. Eventually General Cabell-Charles P. Cabell, Spaatz's Chief of Plans-sort of sponsored the plan, but we were trying to get Spaatz himself to sponsor it.6 A meeting was held with Spaatz, Cabell and a number of other Air Force generals. I was told I could come if I said not one word. I think it is literally true that the generals couldn't see a company grade officer. They probably thought I was there to empty the ashtrays or something. A fellow named Richard Hughes also attended. He was an Englishman, he'd fought in World War I, had emigrated to America in the mid '20s and somehow got into the Air Corps reserves and was called up as a colonel.7

He really was a terrific guy, very focused, very smart, he understood what we were doing, he was a good politician, he had enormous courage. There was a meeting I wasn't at-I got the story from Kindleberger who did attend-at which Hughes was criticizing [General Jimmy] Doolittle [commander of the Eighth Air Force], for something, and Doolittle said, according to the story, "I am tired of being dragged by the balls over a barbed wire fence by you and your target planners, Colonel Hughes." And he said, "General Doolittle, we're not interested in the state of your testicles, we're interested in winning the war." You know, he felt somehow on another plane and he did talk back to general officers, not in a rude way, but he was just very self confident, a very important guy. He was our marketing agent, our contact with the Air Force and he was quite adept at it. Anyway, there was this meeting with Spaatz and the other generals. Cabell gave his speech about the plan we had worked out. Spaatz walked up and down, and then sat down at his desk, put on his hat, and said approximately this. He said: "I won't do it. I won't do it. I won't take the responsibility. This fking invasion's gonna fail. And that's gonna be Eisenhower's responsibility. Then they'll ask us to win the war. And I don't want to have anything to do with it. I'll do what they ask me to do."

I was absolutely shattered. I was horrified. But it was very good preparation for working in Washington.

The 1950's

After the war, "there was a hiatus." Kaysen did not work on military issues very much. "I became a graduate student. I became a junior faculty member at Harvard. I worked on the theory of oligopoly, became a law clerk, I wrote a book about the shoe machinery trial, and so on. But I continued to have an interest. For example, I went to RAND, I wrote some papers for RAND." In the summer of 1951, he worked on Project Charles, an air defense study organized by some scientists at MIT, who as part of the study asked the MIT economist Paul Samuelson to write about the vulnerability of the economy to air attack. "I accepted the assignment,"Samuelson said, "and did what any intelligent professor would do. I got a couple of smart young fellows to do it." Kaysen was one of them. "I hung around and I kind of retuned myself to the technology of the 50's." And then, later in the 1950's, there was an informal discussion group in Cambridge, a kind of "floating crap game," where people talked informally about these problems of strategy and foreign policy. McGeorge Bundy, Arthur Schlesinger, Jerome Wiesner and John Kenneth Galbraith took part in these discussions: Thomas Schelling got involved somewhat later.

I was in and out of that group; I was in on some early discussions of arms control. I knew Wiesner8 from our association on Project Charles, so I would gossip with Wiesner from time to time. Part of this time, he was working on the Gaither Report, and so on, so I was more or less attuned to all that. So although my own field as an economist was primarily in microeconomics and in competition and monopoly policy and things related to that, I kept up an intellectual interest in this stream of problems, really all through that period. And I did some occasional formal work.

And then, on February 1, 1961, [with JFK less than one month in office] I was in St. Louis to give a talk in an economics seminar at Washington University. I was staying with Harold Barnett, who was one of my London colleagues. I had just arrived at his house from the airport. I'd really just had time to take off my coat when the phone rang. Mildred Barnett answered it and said in sort of amazed and awed tones, "Carl, it's the White House calling for you." I thought I knew who it was, and of course Bundy was on the line. [McGeorge "Mac" Bundy]

Sometime during the summer Mac said, "Why don't you look into this missile gap business? We know it's not so, but let's think about how it came about and why the Air Force still is not satisfied." In 1961, the Air Force still had a footnote in what we called the Blue Horror, the NIE [National Intelligence Estimate]-they came out in blue covers and were stamped with every kind of classification you ever saw. I said "sure," and by this time I'd learned to use the telephone. I started to call around the bureaucracy and I discovered that the fellow in charge of the CIA estimates was a former Ph.D student of mine, Ed Proctor. So that was easy, and I went over and saw Ed, and we dug into the bowels of what he was doing and what the Air Force was doing. I certainly would not have been able to do that job as well as I did if I had started at the top.

One of the things Bundy learned and the whole staff learned-and Kennedy learned it very well-was who was the working level, and how do you talk to the working level. And how do you talk to the working level without trying to undercut their bosses, because I never said to Ed Proctor, "Tell me about this and don't tell [CIA Director John] McCone I was here." I said, "Ed, tell me about it. Let's find out about it." And there was never an attempt made to run around people. Actually, I made one attempt, out of ignorance really, stupidity and ignorance, to run around [Secretary of Defense Robert] McNamara, and he scolded me in a nice way. He said, "You don't want to do that. If you talk to [Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense] Alain [Enthoven], tell Alain to talk to me. I always want to hear your arguments." And everything ran smoothly, with a few exceptions. I once had a big run-in with John McCone because I was mixing in his business. He and I went to see the President. When we met in Bundy's office, he addressed me coldly as "Kaysen." But then we went to the Oval Office and it turned out that the President agreed with me. And when we left, he had his arm around my shoulders and was calling me "Carl" because I had won the argument. It was a very interesting lesson in how bureaucracies work.

In September 1961, President Kennedy was formally briefed on SIOP-62, the basic plan for general nuclear war. There was a recent article about it in IS.

I happened to be there for the briefing [to JFK]. Bundy was out of town, and Walt Rostow, who was then Bundy's deputy, was going and he asked me come. The briefing was very dramatic. [JCS Chairman General Lyman] Lemnitzer was there. As I remember it, there was a Navy captain who was the main briefer and I think there was also an Air Force colonel [Col Prouty writes extensively as his role as Briefing Officer to the President in his memoirs]; I assume they were both from JSTPS. They went on and on.

At one point, Kennedy said to Lemnitzer, "General"-and he always addressed him as "General," a mark that he didn't like him-"General, why are we hitting all those targets in China?" And Lemnitzer said, "They're in the plan, Mr. President."

There is no question that Kennedy was just about fed to the teeth in that answer. The whole briefing was a superclassic version of a briefing. It was just more than he could take. The President tapped his teeth, which meant he was mad. After a few minutes he thanked the briefing officers and he leaned over and had a whispered exchange with McNamara. Then he turned to me and to Rostow and said, "Walt, Carl, thank you." So we left. And I think he was going to scold Lemnitzer. He was going to say, "General, I don't want to have another briefing like that." And you know, I don't know how soon, but it was damn soon that Lemnitzer left to become NATO commander.

On the other hand, Kennedy certainly didn't want to reissue the delegation letters, because he was not convinced they were wise. He thought the best he could do was to live with the ambiguity because of course the authority is the authority in the president, not in some previous president. So a lawyer looking at the letters might have said they were invalid. Well, I'm just reporting the reasoning. On the other hand, the commanders might have said they had the authority. When Bundy and I talked about it, I said, "I kind of agree that this is a box in which the President is best off doing nothing." What convinced me that all this happened in 1961, and not 1962 as I had previously thought- what convinced me that Ellsberg's account is basically correct-is that Dan remembers being in a particular office in the EOB [Executive Office Building] in early 1961 and my saying to him, "Look, Lieutenant Kennedy doesn't want to overrule General of the Army Eisenhower." Which is exactly what I might have said and very few other people, I think, would have said that at that time. I don't remember saying it, but it sounds just like me.

Some time in 1962, McNamara formally created a command and control task force chaired by Admiral Paul Blackburn.21 Taz Shephard, the President's military aide, and I were the White House liaisons to that task force. Ellsberg was involved in it from the Pentagon side. I think Harry may well have been McNamara's delegate-that is, the OSD [Office of the Secretary of Defense] delegate on that task force. But it was run by Blackburn who was on the Joint Staff at this time.

Ed Donegan looking this background over

The take-away I had on this is that Kaysen knew General Charles Cabell for deacades back working with him in junior level but fully informed capacity, was closel tied to the movers and players of the Missle Crisis and JFK.

This chapter and other excerpted chapters are included in Los Angeles centered download Homicides.iso https://archive.org/download/genoracketeering_202001/Los%20Angeles%20Homocides%20Tip%20Exract%20Materials.iso An alternate download is a Proton Drive share https://drive.proton.me/urls/ER97M5VWT0#_6pU4Snj17e9.

Main Page and Table of Contents

Murphy And Monjack and TI's

There are three parts to my assertion of a conspiracy that keeps the identity and origins of the FOXP2 London family secrets. 1) Children with problematic genes are drivein into obscurity or death. If the genes they have are properly diagnosed (Ed Donegan asserts) a very covert history of FOXP2 is discovered. 2) Children who show promise under Eugenics predicators are recognized., 3) Reconginzed children are used by Flexible Response programs as Agents of Influence in the USA and around the word.

Suveillance versus Stalking

SurveillanceVStalking.png

Surveillance is when you're being watched and don't know it.
Please Support Targeted Individuals
Please Don't Participate
CJL
I WILL BE JUST FINE
Stalking is when you're being watched and they let you know it.

Ed Donegan: The idea is to irritate a person even traumatize a person. That's why it's called terror attacks, hostile environments things like that traumatic abuse. If you irritate somebody what can you do this irritating them? There's many things you can do to irritate a person for instance to defraud them, slander them, threaten them, be threatening in appearance, step in front of them and impede them harass them. All our forms of irritation designed to cause concern in the stock person.

Elite policing units (including and especially Secret Police such as the NSA, CIA, FBI, and US Marshall's tactical groups, DEA, etc.,) have excellent surveillance capability and can harass targets even in their own homes. Both HUMINT and IMAGINT (screen captures of computer activity, electronic looks into homes, etc,) can through loud noises and disturbing sounds make people feel unsafe even in their own homes. I (like Veronica Hoffman) have dissembled electronics and hunted for how I was being watched. In most cases I was protecting privacy and sense of safety rather than defending illegal acts of mine. I refused any connection to the seriously illegal often even on drugs very small drug purchases rather than larger ones.

A Dialogue By Any Other Name (such as Monologue) is still Dialogue

"A rose by any other name would smell as sweet" is a famous quote from Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, where Juliet says that even if Romeo's name was different, he would still be the same beautiful and lovely person she loves. It emphasizes that names are just labels and don't change the essential nature or characteristics of someone or something. Goole AI.

When a homeless person mentally ill is engaging in a coached and trained "monologue" speaking aloud to him or herself allegedly underlying that the Stalker is engaging in coached trained dialogue with the Stalk victim. The death threats, harassing statements, abusive statements, etc, are just as afould of the law as if stated without the alibi used. Gang Stalk victims have a difficult time showing that menacing people are surrounding them. GagnStalk victims are often treated as bipolar, paranoid, etc.,

Smart Monologue again seemingly to observes is not a homeless person uttering random thoughts often violent or threatening or just seeming dangerous. The monologue is really one person talking to the Target and the Target will recognize something from distance life referenced in the homeless person's talk. Others who do not know of events far away from the local scenes they are in will recognize a reference to a distant scene connecting the homeless person dialogue to the Target.

Methods Of Silencing And Some Unknown Deaths of those who Knew Too Much

The Unites States of America uses Disposition Matrix to develop a kill-list of threats to government (or threats to high-ranking officials.) Some threats may be discredited, others out-right killed. Others may be targeted by the mobs who are under the influence of the US Government (or created by the US Government) who will defraud, hinder, harass, threaten, coerce, blackmail, poison, or otherwise discredit or stop a dissident voice.

The book chapter Further Reading and References go into some detail about what Ted Gunderson and his close friend Gene Chip Tatum refereed to as "techniques used to [covertly] silence critics. Ted Gunderson was backing the voice of Keith Labella, Geral Sosbee, Katherine Horton, and many more my self Ed Donegan included and Jen Moore who also claimed that she and I were Targeted by GangStalkers. That chapter also has further reading and references that support earlier chapters such as some fictional references. What is the movie the Prince and the Showgirl? What if a Prince from England (Edward or Albert) met Maria Kutchera and got her pregnant in 1926? And what if the "royal line" "bastard children" were separated at birth and later only learned they both come from a secretive background mixed between the Republic and the Fascist forces of Order? I suggest these themes (intentionally or unintentionally) show how Marilyn Monroe and Glorian Donegan may have been separated after their birth in the USA and each knew but had to keep secret the true story to protect the high ranking conspirators.

If I am going to ask you to believe the secretive CIA research into the ADHD like Dyslexia like Borderline Personality tendency gene FOXP2 was part of the Britany Murphy death why should I not mention Mary Caitrin Mahoney is in my book series too and I assert many thugs were used to "dispose" of many who may have been told too much about the disease and its origins. But for now how Dupes, Thugs, and Flying Monkeys bully and harass a target with slander, attacks, acts of fraud, robbery, sexual harrsmebt, break-ins, started by the thug, etc.,

Sending in Frauds. Fights with thugs don't start until the thug picks a fight. Usually the fight will start when a thug picks a fight but in the fight denies instigating it.

Understanding the Dialectic "synthesis message" between the Stalker and the Stalked

Rhetoric rhet·o·ric the art of effective or persuasive speaking or writing, especially the use of figures of speech and other compositional techniques. Rhetoric is the art of effective or persuasive speaking or writing, often involving the use of language to achieve a particular effect on an audience. A classic example of rhetoric is the "I Have a Dream" speech by Martin Luther King Jr. He skillfully used repetition, metaphor, and appeals to emotion to inspire his audience. -- The Criminologist.

When a Stalker looks menacing, is brandishing a weapon, or times a presences with an activity the Target is engaging in (such as writing a book or completing some task) the synthesis of the Dialectical Experience is an understanding or created information between the Stalker's intended messaging and the Target's perception of the message. Being a perceivable Stalker (or Stalkers) surrounding a Target is part of terrorist threats against a Target, blocking, harrassing, extorting, or intimating the Target's activities.

Flying Monkey

What is a flying monkey in psychology? Psychological Context: In the world of narcissistic abuse, “Flying Monkeys” are those who, knowingly or unknowingly, are recruited by the narcissist to serve their agenda, extending their influence and control beyond direct interactions.

Abusive high ranking political officials program "trained monkey acts" to be abusive to Targets. The Target (while in a Target store or elsewhere like H.E-B or public transit) is treated as though the Target is a terrorist, mentally disturbed, a peeping tom, a pedophile, a spy for Russia, or any of a number of other slanderous characterizations. This may results in the Target becoming abusive to the Trained Monkey Acts and if so the Target will be blamed for abusiveness towards others. The Trained Monkey Acts (who bully a Target) are often full of fixed delusions in part bonded to their ego by strong emotions in them being played to, self-importance, and sense of mission now that they are part of Government covert operations. In fact the Flying Monkeys are social lunch mob violence starting fights with or slandering Targets.

LA Dom, Mistress Veronica Takes Her Life

Veronica Hoffman, one of the international fetish scene’s most colourful characters, has died in Los Angeles aged 29. A lifetime sufferer with bipolar disorder, she is said to have taken her own life following a severe bout of depression. As Mistress Veronica, she was highly regarded as a pro domme - she learnt her craft at LA’s famous Dominion establishment - and in recent years she had successfully combined this career with fetish modelling in the studio and on the catwalk, where she was extremely popular.

Though she was based in LA, you were as likely to bump into her here in London as at the LA Kink Ball, the German Fetish Ball in Berlin, Wasteland in Amsterdam, Fetish Factory’s Anniversary parties in Florida or Kink In The Caribbean in Jamaica. She was also a promising photographer and writer who combined these skills with her love of fetish parties to great effect in occasional event reports for The Fetishistas.

Like most bipolar people, she did her best not to publicise her condition, but it was well known to her closest friends, and seemed to be largely manageable with the medication she was taking.

However, earlier this year, she entered a manic phase of unprecedented severity which resulted in her being hospitalised. The first sign to her friends that something was seriously wrong came when they began to receive a series of largely baffling e-mails from this normally erudite individual.

According to her boyfriend, music producer and film soundtrack composer Joseph Bishara, she was in and out of hospitals for three or four months during the first half of 2009 before she finally started to emerge from the mania. “But then the depression kicked in, she started to remember all the things she’d done, and was horrified she’d had such a public meltdown,˜ he told me in a sad phone call on Tuesday from Toronto. He had been working on the mix of a movie there when she died.

He said he was hoping to fly back to Los Angeles the following day, to meet Veronica’s family - some in nearby Santa Barbara and others coming in from Texas and Georgia - to organise a memorial service for this coming Saturday (August 8 2009

She had already attempted suicide once, he revealed, but had been saved by a friend who was staying at her dungeon at the time. “I took her to Cedars Sinai, where they adjusted her medication, and it looked like she was getting better,” he said. Unfortunately, it seems that the improvement was temporary.

On Sunday, with Joseph in Toronto, she took advantage of a brief absence of the same friend who’d saved her before and was still watching her, to make a second suicide attempt. Sadly this time she was successful.

She would have been 30 in November. She was one of my dearest friends; life without will never be the same, and I know many others will feel just the same.

Accordingly, we are now planning a Fetishistas celebration of Veronica’s brief but stellar contribution to our world - a reminder of her capacity for brightening up so many lives despite the demons she battled.

We therefore invite photographers and models who shot with her and fetish folk with entertaining anecdotes about her (and boy there must be plenty of those!) to participate in our tribute.

Please send your Veronica stories and pictures to tony [a] thefetishistas.com and we’ll publish as many of them as we can. Thank you. TONY MITCHELL

8 comments Harvey Dent August 7, 2009 at 5:59 pm Sad, Sad, Sad. BPD is no shit.

Sending in Frauds. Fights with thugs don't start until the thug picks a fight. Usually the fight will start when a thug picks a fight but in the fight denies instigating it.

Disposition Matrix

In Psychological Warfare one goal is to cost the enemy their assets for operations.

Casino Royale (2006 film) is a film series to be directed by Martin Campbell, its screenplay was written by Neil Purvis, Robert Wade, and Paul Haggis, and co-stars Eva Green, Mads Mikkelsen, Judi Dench, and Jeffrey Wright. In the film, Bond is on a mission to bankrupt terrorism financier Le Chiffre (Mikkelsen) in a high-stakes poker game at the Casino Royale in Montenegro. I Ed Donegan have been told my genome is a Nazi one and it must be given to Non-Nazis for non-Nazi usages. As bizzare as this sounds (my father fougtht the Nazis my mother came from a North Carolina family that fled them) this has been a bizzare and regular scheme of others allowing for the use of my genome on the basis of systems of fraud.

I will cover Disposition Matrix here by transcoflugalzing the Wikipedia entry to here.

Disposition Matrix

Use of dirty tricks including poisons, financial frauds, staged and picked fights with thugs, paid-off or duped judges, or racketeering COINTELPRO activities are used against Targets, often the Target is someone who for personal reasons of a high ranking official is feared by that high ranking official thus the high ranking official begins covert surveliance and harassment of the Target.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Disposition_Matrix

John O. Brennan, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency and chief counter-terrorism advisor to U.S. President Barack Obama

The Disposition Matrix, informally known as a kill list, is a database of information for tracking, capturing, rendering, or killing suspected enemies of the United States. Developed by the Obama administration beginning in 2010, it goes beyond existing kill lists and is intended to become a permanent fixture of U.S. policy. The process determining the criteria for killing is not public and was heavily shaped by National Counterterrorism Director and former Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) Director John O. Brennan.

Though White House, National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC), and CIA spokespeople have declined to comment on the database, officials have stated privately that kill lists will expand "for at least another decade", if not indefinitely. One official stated "it's a necessary part of what we do". Paul R. Pillar, the former deputy director of the CIA's counterterrorism center, has stated, "We are looking at something that is potentially indefinite".

The database's existence was revealed in a three-part series published by The Washington Post.

Purpose

> We can't possibly kill everyone who wants to harm us ... It's a necessary part of what we do. . . . We're not going to wind up in 10 years in a world of everybody holding hands and saying, 'We love America.'

Unnamed senior Obama administration official, The Washington Post, 23 October 2012.

The creation of the Disposition Matrix database is part of an effort embraced by White House counterterrorism adviser John O. Brennan to codify the targeted killing policies developed by President Barack Obama. Under the George W. Bush administration, Brennan served as top aide to CIA director George Tenet, where he defended the administration's use of extraordinary rendition, enhanced interrogation, and torture by definition according to international standards. Brennan's association with the CIA's interrogation program was controversial and forced him to withdraw his candidacy for directorship of the CIA or National Intelligence in 2008.

According to The New York Times, Brennan was the "principal coordinator" of U.S. kill lists. Former Obama administration counter-terrorism official Daniel Benjamin has stated that Brennan "probably had more power and influence than anyone in a comparable position in the last 20 years".

The database's creation also accompanied an expansion of the drone fleet, turning the CIA into a "paramilitary force" according to The Washington Post. It is associated with increased Joint Special Operations Command (JSOC) operations in Africa, and increased JSOC involvement in forming kill lists. The database has unified originally separate but overlapping kill lists maintained by both JSOC and the CIA, and was originally proposed by former NCTC director Michael Leiter.

Scope

The Disposition Matrix database catalogues biographies, locations, associates, and affiliations of suspects. It also catalogues strategies for finding, capturing, or killing suspects, or subjecting them to extraordinary rendition. As of 2012, the database continued to direct U.S. operations in Afghanistan, Pakistan, Somalia and Yemen, and was expected to facilitate expanded operations in Algeria, Egypt, Mali, Libya, Iran, and throughout east Africa.

A clear example of the expansion of targeted killing as managed by the database is the U.S. military base in Djibouti City, Djibouti, near Somalia. Called Camp Lemonnier and originally created by the French Foreign Legion, the camp has transformed into the largest overseas U.S. drone base outside of Afghanistan. About 3,200 U.S. soldiers, contractors and civilians are assigned to the camp, 300 of whom are special operations personnel.

One terrorism suspect on the Disposition Matrix is Somali citizen Ahmed Abdulkadir Warsame, who is currently a prisoner of the United States being held in New York.

Process

> I tend to do what I think is right. But I find much more comfort, I guess, in the views and values of this president.

- John O. Brennan in August 2012. The Washington Post, 24 October 2012.

The database eliminates the prior system of dual (but not judicial) scrutiny by both The Pentagon and the National Security Council, instead using a "streamlined" system in which suspects were designated by multiple agencies and ultimately presented to Brennan. The head of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, responsible for carrying out orders to kill suspects on the list, no longer contributes to the decision of whether or not to kill them.

Instead, the National Counterterrorism Center plays a greater role in determining targets, which they generate at the request of the White House. The criteria and decisions determining who may be targeted for killing are developed in large part by John Brennan, who "wields enormous power in shaping decisions on 'kill' lists and the allocation of armed drones". Targets are reviewed every three months with input from the CIA and JSOC, before being passed on to top officials in the NCTC, CIA, JSOC, the National Security Council, Pentagon, and U.S. State Department. Ultimately, the authority to kill a suspect outside Pakistan must be approved by the President.

The review process also allows the killing of individuals whose identities are unknown, but who are thought to be engaged in certain activities, for instance packing a vehicle with explosives.

As reported previously, United States citizens may be listed as targets for killing in the database. Suspects are not formally charged of any crime nor offered a trial in their defense. Obama administration lawyers have asserted that U.S. citizens alleged to be members of Al Qaeda and said to pose an "imminent threat of violent attack" against the United States may be killed without judicial process. The legal arguments of U.S. officials for this policy were leaked to NBC News in February 2013, in the form of briefing papers summarizing legal memos from October 2011.

Endorsement

U.S. officials have described the Disposition Matrix as legally and morally sound, and The Washington Post has written that "internal doubts about the effectiveness of the drone campaign are almost nonexistent". U.S. President Barack Obama has called the decision to kill U.S. citizen and terrorism suspect Anwar al-Awlaki "an easy one", and shares counterterrorism views with Brennan, the principal architect of the criteria used when making suspects targets in the database. Referring to President Obama's view of drone strikes, Brennan has stated, "I don't think we've had a disagreement".

U.S. officials speaking to The Washington Post seemed "confident that they have devised an approach that is so bureaucratically, legally and morally sound that future administrations will follow suit". Brennan, a principal architect of the "Disposition Matrix", stated in April 2012 that "in order to ensure that our counterterrorism operations involving the use of lethal force are legal, ethical, and wise, President Obama has demanded that we hold ourselves to the highest possible standards and processes".

The Obama administration's drone program received approval from Republican Party presidential candidate Mitt Romney during the 2012 U.S. presidential elections.

Robert M. Chesney has written for the Lawfare blog that "it certainly is a good thing to create an information management tool that makes certain that officials across agencies and departments can have real-time, comprehensive understanding of the options available (practically, legally, diplomatically, etc.) in the event specific persons turn up in specific places". He has also argued that The Washington Post article describing the program falsely implies that it has been associated with a change in U.S. counter-terrorism policy.

According to research by the RAND Corporation, "drone strikes are associated with decreases in both the frequency and the lethality of militant attacks overall and in IED and suicide attacks specifically".

The number of US drone strikes significantly increased under the Trump administration.

Criticism

> Anyone who thought U.S. targeted killing outside of armed conflict was a narrow, emergency-based exception to the requirement of due process before a death sentence is being proven conclusively wrong.

The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) has condemned the database, writing in a press release that "anyone who thought U.S. targeted killing outside of armed conflict was a narrow, emergency-based exception to the requirement of due process before a death sentence is being proven conclusively wrong". It has also filed freedom of information requests regarding the database and filed a lawsuit challenging its constitutionality.

Glenn Greenwald has written that "the central role played by the NCTC in determining who should be killed [is] rather odious ... the NCTC operates a gigantic data-mining operation, in which all sorts of information about innocent Americans is systematically monitored, stored, and analyzed". Greenwald concludes that the Disposition Matrix has established "simultaneously a surveillance state and a secretive, unaccountable judicial body that analyzes who you are and then decrees what should be done with you, how you should be "disposed" of, beyond the reach of any minimal accountability or transparency". Former counter-terrorism specialist and military intelligence officer Philip Giraldi has criticized the disposition matrix's "everyday" killing of targets with what he calls "little or no evidence", leaving the White House "completely unaccountable". Giraldi later commented that Brennan "feels the [drone] program has run its course as a CIA operation".

In April 2016, peace worker and tribal elder Malik Jalal, who appears to have been targeted by repeated drone strikes, was invited to the United Kingdom (UK) by Ken Macdonald in order to explain to the UK's Houses of Parliament that his life and those of his friends and relatives are at risk due to his reported presence on the list.

Criticizing strikes organized under the aegis of the database, the World Socialist Web Site has written that "the great majority of those killed in Pakistan are targeted for resisting the US occupation of neighboring Afghanistan, while in Yemen they are killed for opposing the US-backed regime there". Regarding the effect of the database in the United States, the site has written that "the Obama administration has arrogated to itself the most extreme power that can be asserted by any dictatorship-that of ordering citizens put to death without presenting charges against them, much less proving them in a court of law". They later criticized the relative silence in the media and the political establishment following the revelation.

In 2016, New York Daily News journalist Gersh Kuntzman has criticized the U.S. government's drone assassination program, and has even implied that the Obama administration may be guilty of war crimes.

Describing the criteria for killing established by the database and drone program, Voice of Russia has written that "in essence, this means that based on intelligence evidence, the administration assumes the right to judge and execute anyone without bothering about such minor things as proper court hearings, or the right of the accused person for proper legal defense". It has accused the Obama administration of violating U.S. principles of due process, stating, "the fact that such operations clearly violate the principles propagated by the U.S. itself, like the right of everyone for legal defense, does not seem to bother the administration".

Speaking at Harvard Law School on 25 October 2012, United Nations Special Rapporteur on human rights and counter terrorism, Ben Emmerson, stated that he would launch "an investigation unit within the special procedures of the Human Rights Council to inquire into individual drone attacks".[citation needed] Emmerson and Christof Heyns, UN Special Rapporteur on extrajudicial, summary or arbitrary executions, have described some U.S. drone attacks as war crimes. Emmerson said that U.S. drone strikes may have violated international humanitarian law.

John Hudson, writing in The Atlantic Wire, has raised the concern that from a semantic perspective, the term "Disposition Matrix" sanitizes and perhaps obscures the more descriptive phrase "kill list".

The United States Senate is split over how to handle the issue, with Democrats urging the creation of a special court to review the matrix. Senate Armed Services Committee chair John McCain called for control of all armed drones to be transferred from the CIA to the U.S. Department of Defense, while Dianne Feinstein has expressed doubt that the Pentagon would take the same level of care to avoid collateral damage.

An American journalist and Syrian Civil War war correspondent Bilal Abdul Kareem reported drone assassination attempts by the U.S. military, which killed random civilians that were present nearby, including two attacks on vehicles he was traveling in, including one where the car he was sitting in was blown up by a missile shot from a drone. In 2017, he filed a lawsuit against the United States government in the District of Columbia, claiming they had attempted to assassinate him, and requesting his removal from the Disposition Matrix.

Seymour Hersh on Disposition Matrix

Seymour Hersh, an American investigative reporter, openly accused the former US vice-president, Dick Cheney at the Minnesota University for callous liquidations of potential enemies of the country.

I did not write about it after September 11, but the CIA was deeply involved in activities directed against people who were considered to be enemies of the country without any trials, Hersh said, alluding to abuse of power.

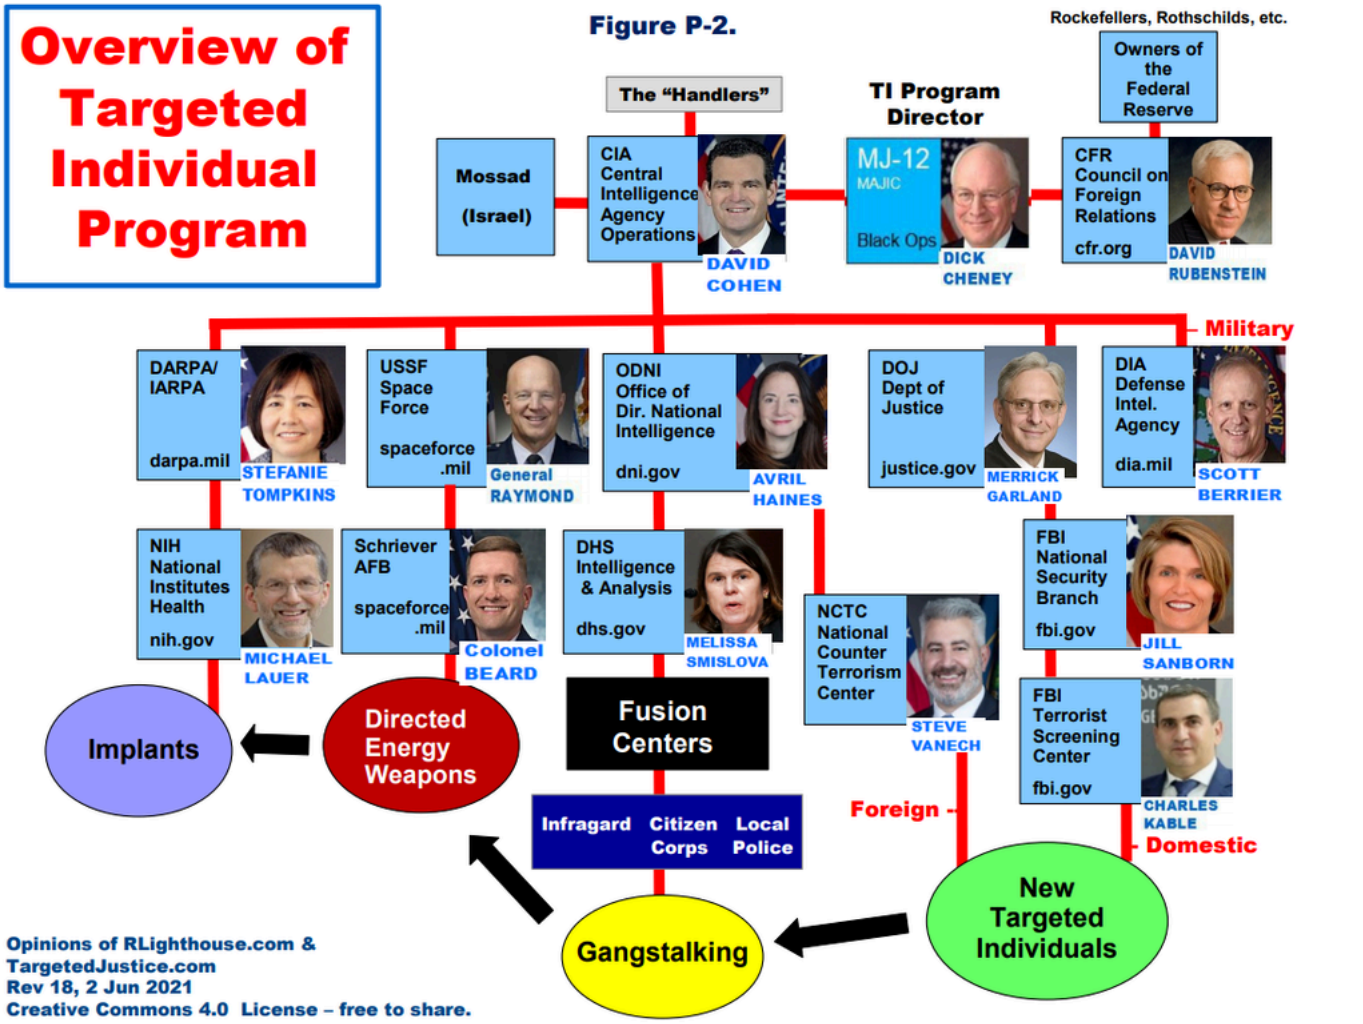
He went on to explain that an organization called Joint Special Operations Command acted independently and they only had to answer directly to Dick Cheney. Their operations took place across the world, without consulting the authorities of the countries and they did not even look to the CIA for advice.

Under Bush's orders they entered various countries without informing the ambassadors or directors of CIA's headquarters. They found the people on their list, executed them and left them there. That took place on behalf of all of us, Hersh said.

He said that he was planning to publish this information in his book and said it would take him two years at the most to collect enough evidence that will convince even the most skeptical that he is right. - https://www.bibliotecapleyades.net/Sociopolitica/sociopol_bushimpeachment35.htm

Gene Hackman

Gene Hackman comments at a press conference that that a dark conspiracy harassing him has killed friends he knew in acting or harassed them such as Heath Ledger, Lindsey Lohan (born July 2) Britney Spears and others. These conspirators damage estate planning, use racketeering, and are capable of abuses in the courts and legal system. https://x.com/Jgt58maga/status/1895931515839934876 I assert the same assasinations through Disposition Matrix that Gene Hackman described without knowing the name of the MK-ultra tool of espionage operations.



Pictured: Dick Chenney leads Gang Stalking Fusion Center Programs. D-E-W attacks, poosings, street violence, outright murder by covert operators who have targeted members of the public for CIA attacks. "Boston Brakes" and more technologically sophisticated attacks and poisons.

Richard Bruce Cheney (/ˈtʃeɪni/ CHAY-nee; born January 30, 1941) is an American former politician and businessman who served as the 46th vice president of the United States from 2001 to 2009 under President George W. Bush.

I assert Bush Cheney were covering-up the Bush-Cheney 1950's and 1960's creation of Barrack Obama Jr. as a CIA project as was Richard Nixon and Nixon under Eisenhower in the Cold War..

I believe and the Russian intelligence agencies think this is also possibly tied to estate asset seizures and the death of Judge Roll who was preparing to rule against seizing retirement assets.

I have written about Heath Ledger and A Knights Tale in The Great Treason. Ulrich is in Austria but just the opposite of Salzburg, Austria, way on the other side of Austria. I assert some people coming in from Salzburg or rather Maria Kutchera coming to the USA to give birth in 1926 with out of wedlock Windsor parentage my or may not be "of noble origins" depending on how the paper works out and what names are placed into the royal patents. Patents being the documentation of who is a royal. Fake names for the genetically ill with FOXP2 is just the opposite, that sick relative is said NOT to be of noble origins and fake names are used from US Citizens to make them appear of US birth that has no nobility.

The Kennedy assassination I assert was from registered (with the Social Security Admin and hospital birth certificates) the known (me Edward Paul Donegan) and other births or birth from Glorian Donegan who was in the USA born in the USA in an area Dean Rusk was in Davidson College.

Lindsay Dee Lohan was born on July 2, 1986, in the Bronx.

2006-2013: Career setbacks and limited work

Lohan's next widely released film, the romantic comedy Just My Luck, opened in May 2006 and, according to Variety, earned her over $7 million. The opening weekend box office takings of $5.7 million "broke lead actress Lindsay Lohan's winning streak" according to Brandon Gray. The film received poor reviews and earned Lohan her first Golden Raspberry nomination for Worst Actress. Following Just My Luck, Lohan focused on smaller roles in more mature, independent movies. Robert Altman's ensemble comedy A Prairie Home Companion, based on humorist Garrison Keillor's works, in which Lohan co-stars with Meryl Streep and Lily Tomlin, had a limited release in June 2006. Peter Travers wrote for Rolling Stone that "Lohan rises to the occasion, delivering a rock-the-house version of 'Frankie and Johnny.'" Co-star Streep said of Lohan's acting: "She's in command of the art form" and "completely, visibly living in front of the camera." The Emilio Estevez ensemble drama Bobby, about the hours leading up to the Robert F. Kennedy assassination, was released in theaters in November 2006. Lohan received favorable comments for her performance, particularly a scene alongside Sharon Stone. As part of the Bobby ensemble cast, Lohan was nominated for a Screen Actors Guild Award. - Wikipedia

What the Murphy Monjack couple were concerned about is what Targeted Individuals (those who espionage officials fear and fake cases against) often report including myself. Telephone being tapped (my mother agreed) being followed by aircraft, feeling their lives were in danger, break-ins to the home, etc.,

Wikispooks - Surrounded by enemies and facing a concerted pressure campaign, Nixon agreed to resign; thus putting Gerald Ford in the White House. Ford populated his administration with men committed to empowering and protecting the secret government. Dick Cheney served as Ford's Chief of Staff, Donald Rumsfeld as Secretary of Defense, and George H. W. Bush was made head of the CIA. This group would assume leadership roles in the secret government infrastructure.

George H. W. Bush more than any individual assumed responsibility for maintaining the evil secrets of the Coup of '63 and the waves of criminality that ensued. Bush took control of a CIA which was under siege. Congressional investigations by the Pike and Church Committees had led to revelations about many of the dark secrets within the CIA. Congressional and public pressure demanded reform at the CIA. Despite his decades long involvement as a deep CIA insider, Bush was falsely brought in as an outsider who could reform the CIA. Bush's real job was to staunch the flow of secrets out of the CIA and prevent the exposure of the truly explosive evil truths of the now multiple Coups d'état executed by the CIA.

Bush was able to stabilize the secret government mechanisms within the CIA, but the ongoing pressure for reform made the CIA an unsafe base from which to work. Backlash from Watergate was creating a political reform movement that was hard to stop, so the decision was made to move many mechanisms of the secret government into the private sector. A large private intelligence industry was created and populated by ex-CIA men. - Wikispooks

The George H.W. Bush Treason Deep State organized a Coup and maintains the Coup with 201 recruits to destroy evidence of the Coup

That coup also placed today's powerful CIA backed candidates into power clearing away dissident information about the Coup these families have ties to. It was probably Drudge and others went after Clinton because the Clinton's were the internal position to the Obama candidacy, a CIA backed presidency arranged by the CIA.

Much has been made of what was inside the Murphy Monjack home. In each and e ery case since about year 2000 when I moved into Natoma Street San Francisco apartments all regular neighbors are cleared and Shills take over the emptied apartments. I remember once I was watching Qui Damm however you spell that and when child sang some sharp notes near her bike there was some kind of massive paranoia being set off. Another point in Blown Away (1993) as some teens have full figures and every now and then in porn I have included that. Non adult markers (childish lack of pubic hair, narrow hips, etc. are staged as an interest campaign but it is only slander.

The Secret of Life [DNA] and Jim Watson Nobel Prize Winner visits

James Watson. Nobel Prize-winning friend of Kaysen's family. Beloved by Kaysen for his unpredictable behavior, he visits Kaysen and offers to help her escape. She turns him down in the belief that she should continue treatment.

> The Secret of Life
>
> One day I had a visitor. I was in the TV room watching Lisa watch TV, when a nurse came in to tell me.
>
> "You've got a visitor," she said. "A man."
>
> It wasn't my troublesome boyfriend. First of all, he wasn't my boyfriend anymore. How could a person who was locked up have a boyfriend? Anyhow, he couldn't bear coming here. His mother had been in a loony bin too, it turned out, and he couldn't bear being reminded of it. It wasn't my father; he was busy.
>
> It wasn't my high school English teacher; he'd been fired and moved to North Carolina.
>
> I went to see who it was.
>
> He was standing at a window in the living room, looking out: giraffe-tall, with slumpy academic shoulders, wrists sticking out of his jacket, and pale hair that shot out from his head in a corona. He turned around when he heard me come in.
>
> It was Jim Watson. I was happy to see him, because, in the fifties, he had discovered the secret of life, and now, perhaps, he would tell it to me.

It seems James Watson did or may have visited Susana Keyson and offer a trip to England perhaps to be studied along with Crick on a DNA basis? Perhaps they were doing so in Santa Monica and Manhattan Beach CIty too where they had traveled to when Susanna was too young to remember the event?

Predator Gangs and Racketeering Influenced Criminal Organizationss are what the CIA and thus US Criminal Justice System are in the lubed in their beds with Starting in about July of 2022 or so and continuing update levels I shared with Austin Central Public Library where I was doing the updates printing the updates and then at the post office mailing the updates to this letter I point out violent gangs are the CIA's best friend IF there is a common interest in attacking a Target be that Castro or Edward Paul Donegan and thus the police facilitating the break-ins, death threats against me, etc., as part of violent crime.

2009

The Manufacturing of a President: The CIA's Insertion of Barack H. Obama, Jr. into the White House Paperback - July 17, 2012 - Wayen Madsen

INVITATION TO JAMES D. WATSON TO THE MARRIAGE OF SUSANNA KAYSEN TO JONATHAN WYLIE

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kaysen request the honour of your presence at the marriage of their daughter
Susanna Neutra
and
Jonathan Stiles Wylie
Saturday, the eighteenth of January at three o'clock
Friends' Meeting at Cambridge
Cambridge, Massachusetts and afterwards at the reception
Kirkland House

Collection

James D. Watson

Tags

Correspondence~ Invitations~ Kaysen, Carl~ Marriage~ Watson, James D., 1928-

Citation

Kaysen, Carl, "Invitation to James D. Watson to the marriage of Susanna Kaysen to Jonathan Wylie," CSHL Archives Repository, accessed February 3, 2025, https://libgallery.cshl.edu/items/show/41721.

Secret Team: The CIA and Its Allies in Control of the United States and the World Paperback - April 17, 2008 by L. Fletcher Prouty (Author)

Brittany Anne Murphy-Monjack (née Bertolotti; November 10, 1977 - December 20, 2009) was an American actress and singer, known for her proficiencies in both comedy and drama.

What else happened in 2009? Veronica Hoffamn died in 2009. She was part of the Racketeering activities and I belive was gang stalked following that generating fear and terror. SHe had a connection to me and that racket. Ted Gunderson was asserting he was being heavy metals and possibly other mechanisms poisoning by FBI operatives. His medical doctor agreed and in 2011 Gunderson died. Now the Murphy's claim DHS was out to kill them. Jen Noore names Rod Rosenstein as a Conspirator and others Eric Holder. They are linked together in press stories of Rosenstein, Machen Jr, and Holder "silencing" leakers of classified information.

J. S. Wylie Weds Susanna Kaysen

In 2010 Gunderon's reports of the FBI and CIA and NSA using heavy-metals and other poisons on him were being caried by various bloggers such as Rudy2

U.S. GOVERNMENT

RUNS 'GANG STALKING' VIGILANTISM, SAYS EX-FBI OFFICIAL

http://www.nowpublic.com/world/u-s-govt-runs-gang-stalking-vigilantism-says-ex-fbi-official

Official confirms what thousands of victims have long known: an evil U.S. shadow government is conducting a covert, taxpayer-funded genocidal purge of American society - while Congress and an apparently entrained Obama administration sleep.

Author's note: Former FBI official Ted Gunderson died of cancer on July 31, 2011. Was his illness induced by silent electromagnetic assault or by other nefarious means? We will never know - and that's just the way certain entities want it.

A former senior official of the Federal Bureau of Investigation says "rogue" military intelligence and law enforcement units of the federal government oversee a nationwide network of community-based "gang stalking" harassment, intimidation and domestic terrorism directed at thousands of U.S. citizens who have been extrajudicially targeted as "dissidents" or undesirables.

Ted Gunderson, 82, who has served as the special agent in charge of the FBI's Los Angeles, Memphis and Dallas field offices, has stated in a series of public speaking appearances that he is now targeted by these same elements, and fears for his life and for the safety of his family. He reports that the windows of his home have been shot out, and he believes he has been poisoned and physically sickened by those seeking to silence him.

Since his retirement from the FBI in the 1979, Gunderson has been a Southern California- based private investigator. He is most noted for his defense work on the murder case involving former Army physician Dr. Jeffrey MacDonald.

The ex-FBI official's comments represent the most compelling testimony to date indicating that "black operations" of the federal government are dedicated to waging a covert war of terror and persecution targeting American citizens.

"Based on my thirty years' experience and research, I have determined there are thousands of victims who have been targeted by an illegal U.S. government rogue criminal enterprise - military intelligence, probably, tied into CIA and FBI and so forth - that is active 24 hours a day throughout the United States," Gunderson stated in an October 2008 speech posted last fall on YouTube.

youtube.com/watch?v=o6MRciqml9I

NOTE: It appears that the link to the Ted Gunderson YouTube video has been sabotaged. Please search "Ted Gunderson" and "YouTube" and look for the link to his speech at the Gulf Symposium.. I believe this is more blatantly illegal and malicious interference with telecommunications by operatives of Lockheed Martin, under contract to U.S. Homeland-mil-intel, or another entity representing the agencies, commands and corporations of the U.S. fusion center network.

"It is far too extensive to be controlled by private enterprise," Gunderson said. "I believe this well organized and sophisticated operation has a central command located somewhere in the United States, with multiple satellite offices scattered throughout the country."

Said Gunderson:

> "It appears those who administer the program can call any location in the United States for surveillance, a telephone tap, or … harassment directed at a victim, and immediately dispense manpower to the source … This well-greased, covert operation makes the old FBI counterintelligence program (code-named "Cointelpro") look like a Sunday school class."

Gunderson also maintains that federal security and law enforcement agencies and commands have been infiltrated by members of secret societies such as the Illuminati, which he has described as a satanic criminal cult.

This correspondent (Rudy Andria or someone beign quoted) has reported that Lockheed Martin, the world's largest defense contractor and the prime cyber-security and information technology supplier to the federal government, coordinates the communications and trains the "team leaders" of a nationwide Gestapo-like apparatus, which has tentacles into every security and law enforcement agency in the nation, including state and local police and 72 regional "fusion centers" administered by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. According to company literature, Lockheed Martin has operations in 46 of the 50 states.

nowpublic.com/world/rule-law-morality-die-usa-fusion-center-slow-kill-genocide

Lockheed Martin also has operational command and control over a U.S. government microwave radio frequency weapon system, deployed on cell tower masts throughout the U.S., that is being used to silently torture, impair, subjugate and electronically incarcerate so-called "targeted individuals." The nexus of this American "torture matrix" appears to be Lockheed Martin's Mission and Combat Support Solutions central command center in Norristown, Montgomery County, PA., which employs several thousand workers. The defense contractor's global headquarters is in Bethesda, MD, just outside the nation's capital.

nowpublic.com/world/u-s-silently-tortures-americans-cell-tower-microwaves

Lockheed Martin, under contract to U.S. security and intelligence agencies and commands, also conducts warrantless surveillance of the telecommunications of targeted persons, and routinely censors and tampers with the content of their communications, as this reporter has documented in a series of recent articles:

nowpublic.com/world/u-s-govt-uses-spoofed-web-pages-and-urls-censor-internet nowpublic.com/world/more-blatant-ideological-net-censorship-u-s-intel-gestapo nowpublic.com/world/phony-facebook-comment-block-lockheed-martin-cyber-censors nowpublic.com/world/wash-post-blog-moderation-used-cover-u-s-govt-censorship

Thousands of Americans, including this veteran journalist, have publicly reported being the victims of silent electromagnetic assault and community-based home intrusions, vandalism, and even the poisoning of food, water and air. Federal and local law enforcement routinely dismiss their reports as the product of delusions or mental illness, and refuse to investigate their complaints.

nowpublic.com/world/put-under-microwave-weapon-mil-contractor-goons-terrorize nowpublic.com/world/u-s-microwave-weapon-drops-body-temp-cold-blooded-torture nowpublic.com/world/microwave-tortured-inside-lowes-superfresh-gestapo-usa nowpublic.com/world/u-s-cellular-microwave-weapon-pierces-skull-sonic-torture nowpublic.com/world/sadistic-web-ads-foreshadow-silent-u-s-microwave-weapon-attacks

These "targets" and their families have been physically harmed and financially destroyed as a result of taxpayer-funded "psychological operations," police-protected community "stalking" harassment and malicious vandalism, and other covert programs of personal destruction, including government-assisted financial sabotage. Many appear to have been targeted as a result of their politics; their activism or corporate whistle-blowing activities; their ethnic background; or as a result of score-settling vendettas by persons in positions of power - in government and in the private sector.

The former FBI executive's remarks are only now attracting widespread exposure on this and other web sites. This correspondent believes that recent revelations of government-sponsored domestic terrorism against U.S. citizens have prompted some conscientious insiders to call attention to Gunderson's public statements.

Gunderson has said that government-sponsored gang stalking terrorism is financed "through illegal black operations," such as sales of illegal drug; gambling; prostitution; and even sexual exploitation of children. But this reporter believes it is more likely that programs of government-sponsored domestic terrorism are funded from military and security "black ops" budgets that have been illegally diverted to covert domestic programs administered and conducted primarily by defense contractors.

Late last year, The New York Times disclosed that an official of the U.S. Air Force had set up an unauthorized military intelligence spy ring in Pakistan and Afghanistan, run by Lockheed Martin and funded by defense appropriations.

nytimes.com/2010/10/29/world/asia/29intel.html

This correspondent suspects that a similar arrangement could be funding government-sponsored "gang stalking" operations throughout the nation, and has urged Congress to immediately hold public hearings as part of a comprehensive investigation of military-style "black ops" targeting American citizens and their families - a silent, slow-kill genocide motivated by ideology and hate.

FOR MORE ON AMERICA'S HOMELAND-MIL-INTEL GESTAPO:

NowPublic.com/scrivener

Continue reading at NowPublic.com: U.S. GOV'T RUNS 'GANG STALKING' VIGILANTISM, SAYS EX-FBI OFFICIAL | NowPublic News Coverage http://www.nowpublic.com/world/u-s-govt-runs-gang-stalking-vigilantism-says-ex-fbi-official#ixzz1h1wzWolu

https://rudy2.wordpress.com/coverts-agents-infiltrate-the-internet-to-manipulate-deceive-nad-destroy-reputations/

July 4 2022 Letter to US Secret Service

On open and widely distributed letter by Ed Donegan who prefers the Secret Service charter mission of protecting the JFK RFK and TK presidencies from assassination overthrow and https://twitter.com/GeorgWebb as a media contact and the FBI Office of Professional Conduct as the preferred Law Enforcement contact for those who have information.

The simple part of the story is that I am not a Nigerian prince. My mother born December 13 1926 grew up poor in North Carolina until 9 years old, at her two years old her brother Harold being born and living on that same farm also wearing gunny sack seed clothes during the dust-bowl on a farm.

In a G.I Bill type of life story my father James Paul Donegan a son of poor Irish Roman Catholic immigrants to the USA in Dorchester Massachusetts St Aidans Church where the Kenned's lived and is tied to Robert F. Kennedy, the Kennedy Museum, etc., and he would leave that church based on how a friend of his was destroyed (he said banished but not exactly that word, sounded more politically drive out) by politics.

By the accounts of my family and onlie records James Paul Donegan met Glorian Donegan, formally Glorian Gainey sister of Harold Gainey them of Festus Gainey all of the Fort Bragg area when Glorian was then living in Bishopville South Carolina. Harold's friends lived in trailers and he worked for Dupont fiber and he and Glorian lived on a small farm house with a tractor, windmill, tobacco leaves drying shed, farm land, etc.,

James Paul Donegan joined the US Army Air Corp learning piloting skills and fought in wWII and the Korean War including air campaigns over Europe and teaming in the P-51 with the B-29s for the atommic bombing of Japan following the surrender of Germany.

Maria Kutshcera was niece of Franz Kutschera a Gestapo General who in the Von Trapp household to the disdain of Captain Von Trapp made Nazi plans with Heinrich Himmler.

Maria Kutschera impregnated in 1925 by the Windsor family with three children likely Marilyn Monroe, Glorian Donegan, and Julie Andrews had new identities in the USA disavowing the Nazi connections.

During CIA work in the 1952 to 1972 era most likely as a date range Dean Rusk and others of Standard Oil plans used DNA from Glorian Donegan in test births testing a rare gene in secrecy the London King Edward VII FOXP2 Minimal Brain Disorder (adhd dyslexia like symptoms) the royal family was eager to hide, runs in the Rockefeller, Bush, Windsor, Kennedy, and Donegan family, and Central European family lines in great numbers.

The life story of James Paul Donegan and Glorian Donegan and Ed and Tom Donegan should be viewed as virtuous and normal but CIA and espionage activity has targeted, duped, harassed and betrayed the Donegan family when the story of Madelyn Lee Payne of Rockefeller Oil was part of plot with Dean Rusk to use Glorian DNA for Barrack Obama and Indonesia in sleeper agents planning.

The Donegan family is targeted and harassed nearly into oblivion now that a predatory racket is allowed to abusively assert wrong doing by Edward Paul Donegan, last living Donegan, and the destructive allegations inciting fall from society into homelessness.

I believe the CIA plans to violate the Monroe Doctrine and use sleepers for British and US Colonialism with the Windsors is what led to the assassination of the Kennedy's and others.

Edward Paul Donegan
1513 apt 5 Corpus Christi Tx 78404

US Secret Service
300 E 8th St #972, Austin, TX 78701
via CLoud and Cruz

To the United State Secret Service and to whom it may concern. The Mafia was used to attempt the overthrow of Fidel Castro, to succeed in the Overthrow of JFK and Roman Catholic influences, and as attack on me and they are all related to the Kennedy Assassination and the CIA and have targeted me as a victim in the same matter because of family history of the 1920's and 196'0s in Dorchester Massachusetts (initially Google Donegan Dorchester and Kennedy Dorchester.)

Mafia Konnection Ultra is the FBI using allegations I am retarded and schizphrenic to allow Racketeering Influence Criminal Organization elites the influences to attack me as Mafia, staging destructive false allegations against me and physically and legally civilly attacking me on the basis of those accusations.

That is the connection to the Kennedy's on my fathers side, initially. On my mother's side Secretary of State Dean Rusk was in North Carolina at the Presbyterian Davidson College North Carolina in 1927 about the time my mother Glorian Gainey and Harold Gainey were in North Carolina as underground railroad rescuees from Austria as Kutscherea Windsor Von Trapps.

"To allow opposition by speech seems to indicate that you think the speech impotent." Speech from me has not been so and has been Targeted specifically because it is related to the history of the Presidency and Dorchester-Boston Massachusetts and thus I have had change my writing career to address the Mafia attacks on me the Secret Service should also be addressing.

Today's politicians and news media do not want the MKULTRA stord told and I and other imperiled witness are being harrased and not listened to.

STASI - THE MINISTRY FOR STATE SECURITY

(German: Ministerium für Staatssicherheit, MfS,) was the official state security service of the German Democratic Republic (East Germany, GDR) from 1950 to 1990. It has been described as one of the most effective and repressive intelligence and secret police agencies to have ever existed.

One of the Stasi's main tasks was spying on the population, primarily through a vast network of citizens-turned-informants, and fighting any opposition by overt and covert measures, including hidden psychological [and medical and financial] destruction of dissidents (Zersetzung, literally meaning "decomposition").

The system used recruited members of the public or State buerous to sabotage the records, ordinary living, housing, and finances of vicitms of the Stasi.

18 U.S. CODE § 1512 - TAMPERING WITH A WITNESS, VICTIM, OR AN INFORMANT

Section 1512 of Title 18 constitutes a broad prohibition against tampering with a witness, victim or informant. It proscribes conduct intended to illegitimately affect the presentation of evidence in Federal proceedings or the communication of information to Federal law enforcement officers.

Hiding Violations of 18 USC § 1512 can be achieved by corrupt powerful figures in Governors offices, CIA, FBI, and other official positions who plausibly deny their Stasi hand in the destruction of lives of those who are witnesses to the Kennedy assassination.

POLITICALLY ORGANIZED RACKETEERING KRIMES PORK

Politically Organized Racketeering Krimes sets up Mafia ties and slush funds in League with corrupt interests in government and media, if pervasive enough and powerful enough, can allow illegal programs to be concealed including concealed by using Agents of Influence in Media to propagate propaganda and intimidate conspiracy theories regarding Shadow Government or Deep State

CRIMINAL FACILITATION

PORK may recruit profiteering criminal elements into activities to gain their participation in the Politically Organized Krimes

Facilitation of Crimes including the hiding of data incriminating today's politicians and businesses tied to JFK assassination can include acts of sabotage a writer by break-ins to his or her home office, intimidation of statements of the witness to the police or to anyone else, and other conspiracies against the witness that harass the victim or disadvantage the witness's effectiveness in anyway.

Use of Provocateurs to instigate conflicts or altercations that after their start can be resolved against the person who alleges they were throwing a second punch and not the first is part of harassing a victim into bad and ineffective outcomes or conditions.

The attacks on my home office and computer equipment and other attacks on me have been as much a part of espionage related presidential activities as were the Watergate Towers break ins and other crimes.

These are not the only crimes I have been the victim of by an Espionage Deep State that is tied to the crimes of assassinating Kennedy members and others.

In what I am now terming Defensive Treason criminals who gained power in government by OSS CIA methods (covert irregular warfare plausibly denied crimes against the State and its office holders and thus crimes against the People) now in ower are using the same long term system of Psychological Warfare violence in denied acts of additional treason concealing the earlier assassinations.

The Abuse of Power of existing power holders uses Mafia actors as assets for misdeed overlooked intentionally by police acting on orders of corrupt interests, those interests now embedded in government.

The Conspiracy Against Rights is achieved by false pretexts in Abuse of Process and has included wrongful evictions and terminations of lawful housing I have held and false arrests and detentions based again on false or artificially illegal manufactured pretexts for those arrest, the pretext withstanding because the State would not transport me trial.

As a general rule political asylum is granted when a person fears for their life because of the corrupt and illegitimate acts of the their government; in this case the Government by planting children as "porn" near me has been able to create abuses of my rights not only supported inside the United States but my alleged child abuser status hampering exit from the United States as well.

The Russians have noted the FBI has used the same tactics on their own as are being used on me and this is standard practice for the Government of the United State of America, a country unwilling to route the richest of its criminals from the glamour of their political lives.

One attack in Corpus Christi Texas I reported to the police and the records were altered of pertain to the theft of my integrated TV, DVD, and laptop computer also DVD capable I was writing and researching my book on about the Von Trapp background of my mother Glorian Donegan.

I have attached (in some cases) a chapter from one of my books the stolen equipment is refereed to using non-fictional background info and Kennedy Secretary of State Dean Rusk, his ties to Rockefellers and Charlotte North Carolina area my mother was in and the likely underground railroad run by the Presbyterians and YMCA later material to the Donegan s connection to the JFK admin and that same background of Glorian Donegan of North Carolina USA.

Lee Harvey Oswald's last attempted phone call (John Hurt Amry intelligence emigres to the USA background checking) was to that area and I believe connected to the Glorian Donegan Dean Rusk story I go into later.

Every bit of information I Ed Doneagn have including first hand witness statement and my own first hand information that I have is that Robert f. Kennedy knew most but not all of the assassination run out a Government operation JM/WAVE he oversaw , and private mafia CIA groups did not like his oversight. Those assassins like David Sanchez Morales and William Harvey, Donald Barr and William Barr, J. Edgar Hoover and James Angleton,George H.W. Bush, he did not know the full details of, Operation 40 parallel operation, privately funded mafia of George H.W. Bush, E. Howard Hunt, and others in rouge operation.

Thomas Hale Boggs Sr. (February 15, 1914 - disappeared October 16, 1972) was an American Democratic politician and a member of the U.S. House of Representatives from New Orleans, Louisiana. He was the House majority leader and a member of the Warren Commission.

In 1972 as J Edgar Hoover died, Watergate and other Senate hearings on the CIA were underway, while still House Majority Leader (Roman Catholic who upon death was replaced by Tip O'niel as Speack of the Hosue), Boggs was on a fundraising drive in Alaska when the twin engine airplane he was travelling in (along with Alaska congressman Nick Begich and two others) disappeared en route from Anchorage to Juneau, Alaska.

Boggs began his political comeback. He was again elected to Congress in 1946 and was then re-elected thirteen times, once just after he disappeared, but before he was presumed dead.

During his tenure in Congress, Boggs was an influential member. After Brown v. Board of Education, he signed the 1956 Southern Manifesto condemning desegregation. Boggs voted against the Civil Rights Acts of 1957,1960, and 1964, but voted in favor of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 and the Civil Rights Act of 1968. He was instrumental in passage of the interstate highway program in 1956.

He served as majority whip from 1962 to 1971 and as majority leader from January 1971 to his disappearance. As the whip, he ushered much of President Johnson's Great Society legislation through Congress.

During this time in the Congress Nixon and Hester were working on a plan for post WWII Europe as a congressional bill called the Marshall Plan as the Iron Curtain went up,, the Berlin Wall was built and the Soviet Union successfully tested a nucelar device and was winning the Space Race and China was going nuclear and communist and the Republican or Ireland and Northern Ireland were in a dirty war in Belsfast. MKULTRA began in 1952 1953 with the death of Frank Olson, the death of Johan Paisley and the MKULTRA plan formalized and relying heavily on Brittian backing sleeper agents around the world

The suspcicous deaths John Paiselyi and Ralph J. Siglar of the CIA connected to Oslwald fit to activities in this timeline. From the 1953 to 1957 Paiseley was working on surveillielling and electronic surveillance of the Communist side of the wall and the Sovietes with William K. Harvey of the CIA who also oversaw tunnel activities, defectors, and assets managed through the wall for the CIA.

In the 1979 novel "The Matarese Circle", author Robert Ludlum portrayed Boggs as having been killed to stop his probe into the assassination.

[con't]

This chapter and other excerpted chapters are included in Los Angeles centered download Homicides.iso https://archive.org/download/genoracketeering_202001/Los%20Angeles%20Homocides%20Tip%20Exract%20Materials.iso An alternate download is a Proton Drive share https://drive.proton.me/urls/ER97M5VWT0#_6pU4Snj17e9.

Main Page and Table of Contents